Leaders in Eastbay and San Francisco Districts Cooperate in Effort to Prevent the Threatened Yard Walkout

Possibility of Difficulty Being Settled by Mediation; Last Step Taken by War Labor Board to Find Adjustment

Labor leaders of the Eastbay and San Francisco districts, who are co-operating in an effort to prevent a walkout on February 1 of the carpenters and joiners, have today issued a statement in which they hope to avert the strike, it is stated, through the intervention of the international union with which the men are affiliated. There are 1,000 men in the Eastbay district, and it is announced, in an attempt to prevent other shipbuilding work from being interrupted by the strike.

Advices received from San Francisco this afternoon indicate the possibility of the difficulty being eliminated through mediation. The officials of the Maritime Council, which is acting as a mediator, have been in conference with the shipyard board, and it is expected that the board will agree to a settlement.

VIRGILIA BOGUE BARON, famous Portola queen, whose war labors in Italy has sent her to a mental refuge.

WAR'S HORRORS CLOUDS MIND OF VIRGILIA BOGUE

Slender, evil, the shadow of those black days when at Caporetto the great Italian army gave way and the Austrian hordes into the Venetian plains of her beloved Italy, has fallen to work in a mental refuge.

The noted San Francisco woman, who was queen of the first Portola festival in 1909, and later with her motorman-nobleman husband took up residence in Italy, where she worked indefatigably in the war, is now in a mental refuge.

(By Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—United States Commissioner of Immigration Henry M. White, who is acting as federal mediator in the Seattle shipyard strike, declared today he did not believe an honest expression had been obtained from the workers themselves on the shipyard strike or that an honest vote was being taken on the general strike question.

"It is absurd to claim that a referendum vote was taken on the subject of the shipyard strike," White said. "It is also certain that a correct estimate of labor's attitude in the present general strike voting is not being obtained. From what I have learned by being constantly in touch with the situation, I am satisfied that the majority did not favor the shipyard strike."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—It will be the policy of the government to stop work on the shipyard strike, it is stated today. The government is not going to support the strike, and it is not going to support the workers.

Tells House Radio Will Make Scrap of Wire Carriers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—"Scrap."

"That's all the telegraph and telephone poles, wires and instruments will amount to in a year if the progress now being made in wireless communication continues, Representative Stearnson of Minnesota, ranking Republican member of the House postoffice committee, predicted today.

"Radio communication is the coming thing," Stearnson said. "It is making such rapid strides that before the end of the year the average American will not be bothered much about the transmission of an ordinary message over an ordinary telegraph or telephone wire, or as to whether the ordinary telegraph or telephone is owned or controlled by governmental or private interests."

Federal Trade Commission to Be Compelled to Divulge Names of Those Exposing Alleged Collusion Methods

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—After hearing the testimony of the five leading meat packers on the charge of the Federal Trade Commission that they had combined to control meat prices, members of the House Interstate commerce committee today tentatively agreed to demand of the Trade Commission that it submit names of witnesses upon whose statements its charge of collusion had been based.

A demand for this action was made by Representative Winslow of Massachusetts while T. E. Wilson, president of the United States Meat Packers Association, was testifying, and was agreed to by other members of the committee during a heated discussion which followed.

British and French Accept Wilson Plan For League Control of Captured Lands

League of Nations Like Sewing Circle Says Adm. Mayo

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—"The league of nations idea is rapidly getting down to a 'sewing circle' with no means of enforcement and with no international police force," declared Admiral Mayo, commander of the American naval forces, before the House naval affairs committee this afternoon in urging the carrying out of Secretary Daniels' bigger American navy program.

"If an international police force were formed, I do not think the United States navy, as it is constituted today, would be in a position to man its full share of ships," the admiral added. "Now is the time to 'go the limit' in the expansion of the American navy. When the United States went into the war our navy was not properly prepared, and if we had not had the assistance of the British navy we would have been in a very bad way, indeed."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The British and French governments have accepted in principle President Wilson's plan concerning mandatories from the league of nations for the administration of captured territory, it was stated by Captain Andre Tardieu of the French peace conference delegation today. The acceptance, however, is subject to learning under what conditions the plan will be carried out.

MAN HELD AS JAILBREAKER IS RELEASED

Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares and Jailer S. B. Van Dervoort went to the jail today to identify a man arrested there last night as Frank Everett, one of the four prisoners who escaped from the county jail last Sunday after beating Van Dervoort with a club and a pistol butt. They found that he is not the man wanted, although his description corresponds closely to that of Everett. The force of the sheriff's office is kept busy running down reports that the men have been seen, all of which prove to be without foundation. It is reported that the four men

GERMAN ARMY IS REDUCED TO 500,000 MEN

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN GERMANY, Jan. 30 (By courier to Coblenz).—There are not more than 130,000 German troops outside of Germany, according to information obtained by the American army of occupation. These include about ten thousand German soldiers in Turkey.

The present organized German army is not greater than 500,000 and some authorities estimate from Berlin that it is nearer 300,000.

They were seen going away from the jail after their escape. The four of them ran together east on Fourth street as far as Franklin, where they separated, one going north, two south and one continuing out Fourth. They were seen by a number of people, who thought it was a footrace or an exercise stunt and paid no attention until the news of the break was published.

SAMUELS TO GET JUDGESHIP, RUMOR

The appointment of a superior judge to succeed the late William S. Wells is looked for daily. It is reported that Judge George Samuels, who was appointed to the bench by the board of supervisors, Senator Edward Tyrrell, a candidate for the Wells vacancy, will be satisfied, it is stated, with an appointment to the police bench at this time. At present there appears to be greater pressure for a superior from Berkeley than for a member of the superior bench. It is not believed that the College City can land both offices. If settled within the next twenty-four hours it is probable that the Samuels-Tyrrell-Stanis program will go through. This will be a complete victory for M. J. Kelly. If delays occur a new lineup is possible.

Sacramento Men Capture Prisoner

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—Sacramento is experiencing a wave of crime. Hold-ups are of nightly occurrence. Three hold-ups were reported in the downtown district last night. Citizens chased Harry Matthews, who was caught robbing S. P. Reynolds in an alley. Robert Fitzsimmons, a negro, was arrested attempting a hold-up. George Masie was taken from the emergency hospital with a fractured skull. He was dragged and robbed.

stands at present. That is, the carpenters, joiners, caulkers and others have by their strike vote action, if it is enforced, thrust themselves on the other shipyard workers, as he views the matter. CANVASS MADE AMONG EASTBAY WORKERS

Representatives of the striking shipworkers of the northwest are canvassing the Eastbay and San Francisco districts, it is stated, in an effort to involve the workers in a sympathetic strike movement similar to that which is now spreading in Seattle, Portland, Tacoma and other North Pacific coast shipbuilding ports. William A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county, is now in Seattle on matters. It is said, adding this and other proposed strike movements.

According to the news despatches of today, Spooner addressed the Seattle Central Labor Council last night and in the course of his remarks charged that the radicals prevented the recent Chicago labor congress, which was called in the interest of the free-or-retry Mooney movement, from making progress. According to the despatches, Spooner's remarks nearly resulted in a number of fist encounters.

Frank Turco, metal trades delegate to the congress, is reported to have said he was "nauseated" by Spooner's remarks and asked permission to speak. This was denied and a stormy argument followed among the members. James Duncan, secretary of the Central Labor Council, and also a delegate to the Chicago congress, supported Spooner's remarks by saying that a certain strike element had tried to run the gathering and was now complaining because its purpose had been defeated.

The news despatches said further that some of the delegates made the assertion that "certain persons are making a fat living" from the campaign to free Thomas Mooney.

At the close of the shift yesterday at the plant of the Union Construction Company, on the western waterfront, where 10,000-ton steel freighters are being built for the government, W. W. Johnson, president of the firm, addressed the employees on the strike situation. According to Johnson the sentiment of the men, as expressed at the conclusion of his remarks, is decidedly against a strike or any attempt at this time to seek a wage in excess of that nominated in the Macy award. In his address to the men President Johnson said:

"This company has a lump sum contract with the United States Shipping Board to build ten steel vessels and the rate of wages to be paid is in the hands of the Shipbuilding Labor Adjustment Board, which issues the statement that it intends to stand by the Macy award, providing for a basic mechanics' rate of 80 cents per hour.

"The Emergency Fleet Corporation, through its San Francisco office, states that it cannot permit ships to be built at a cost greater than that prevailing during the period of emergency and, further, that in order to avoid over-production, cancellation will be made in districts hit up by labor disturbance. If the difficulties should become general over the Pacific coast, it will probably result in the permanent loss to the cost of shipbuilding industries employing thousands of men and in the closing of this yard.

"It is of the very greatest importance to both this company and yourselves that no action be taken on the present situation without careful and sober analysis of the probable results and you are urged to reflect carefully before participating in the final action on the present movement toward a demand for increased wages.

COUNTY'S WARD IS STILL ON JOB

"I'm not afraid of anything," said Supervisor William J. Hamilton today as he opened the door and invited Mrs. Sadie Casper into conference with the board over the question of her continued support as an indigent.

Mrs. Casper entered, as she has done innumerable times during the quarter of a century she has been a charge of the county and the Associated Charities, and the principal portion of the session was consumed in consideration of her remarkable case.

Mrs. Casper admitted that she has been supported by the charities for twenty-five years, and charged that she has earned the money fighting for it. She is the only county charge who is maintained outside of the county infirmary, because she refused to be sent there.

She received from $5 to $10 a month for rent and a grocery order, and she attends every meeting of the board with punctuality that has often been commended to the supervisors. She also attends the meetings of the city council, sessions at the Hotel Oakland and meetings of the Elbel Club, it was said today.

Mrs. Casper is the original thorn in the supervisory side, and the session today was mainly for the purpose of trying to settle her question. It was disposed of finally by notifying her that $8 a month will be allowed for her rent, to be paid to her landlady by the Associated Charities, and in addition she is to have a grocery order for $10. The situation that the authorities have been forced to meet in her case for years is the alternative of providing for her on her own terms or letting her starve to death. She refuses to be dictated to as to how she shall be maintained, and declares that she will have her living from the county or else she will not live. The supervisors have admitted that they cannot solve the situation and anticipate that in spite of their warning to her to stay away she will be in attendance next Monday.

ARMY PROPOSES MONUMENT TO WOMEN IN WAR

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY, Jan. 30 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—A movement to erect in Washington, D. C., a monument to "American womanhood in commemoration of her loyalty, sacrifices and devotion to the American expeditionary forces," has been started by the third American army. It is proposed that General Pershing appoint a committee to take up the work and that only members of the American expeditionary forces, the navy and the merchant marine be permitted to contribute to the fund. Under the proposed plan enlisted men would give a dollar each and officers three dollars each.

LOS ANGELES HAS $145,000 FIRE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—A fire in the wholesale district here today shortly before daybreak did damage estimated by underwriters and manufacturers at about $145,000. The establishments damaged and their estimates of the amounts of losses were: Tibbitts-Oldfield Paint Company, $70,000; Frank J. Kimball Machinery Company, $20,000; Goodwin Canning Company, $6000; Standard Sash and Door Company, $50,000. Owing to the large amount of paint and lumber in the burning area, which covered two blocks, the fire was difficult to control and spectacular. It was practically extinguished by 6 o'clock after a three-hour battle.

ENGLAND'S FREE TRADE ABANDONED

LONDON, Jan. 30.—A protective measure in the interests of British manufacturers will be inaugurated March 1, it became known today. It consists of an order requiring special licenses for importation of fifty-three classes of goods. The licenses must be obtained for each shipment.

Among the goods affected are aluminum wearing apparel, hosiery, cartridges, cement, fire extinguishers, firearms, hats, lawnmowers, linens, tools, various kinds of machinery, oil cloth, perfume, toilet preparations, cameras, plated ware, sewing machines, furs, soap, stoves, time-recording instruments, vacuum cleaners and scales. After the signing of the armistice shippers were allowed to import the above articles on a general license covering all shipments. On March 1 the shippers must return to the pre-armistice regulations, it was said. "In the interests of British manufacturers."

NEW ROAD BOND ISSUE PROPOSED

Consideration of the submission of another bond issue for highway construction in California will be the business before a meeting of representatives from all sections of California to be held in the supervisors' room in San Francisco the afternoon of February 12. The decision to call this meeting and arrangements for it were made at a meeting in San Francisco the afternoon of the executive committee appointed at the suggestion of Governor Stephens by the meeting of citizens held recently at Sacramento to consider highway matters.

Invitations to the meeting on February 12 will be sent to every board of supervisors, county central organizations, the highway committees of both houses of the legislature and various civic and highway organizations throughout the state. The California Federation of Women's Clubs, the California State Automobile Association and Automobile Club of Southern California, it is expected, will also be invited.

At today's meeting the members of the state highway commission and State Engineer Fletcher were in attendance and were asked by the executive committee to prepare estimates of the cost of completion of the original system and cross tie laterals and also upon the probable cost of the large number of proposed new roads of state-wide importance. These estimates will be prepared in time for consideration at the meeting February 12. No definite amount for the proposed bond issue has been settled upon and that will be one of the decisions to be made at the forthcoming meeting.

W. M. Johnson of San Mateo presided at today's meeting of the executive committee.

59 Dutch Sailors Take Dutch Leave

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Somewhere in San Francisco and the bay region today are 59 sailors of the royal Dutch navy, the De Zeven Provinciën, in adoration. If the officers of the Dutch warship De Zeven Provinciën know anything about it.

Out on the high seas steamed De Zeven Provinciën this morning, short-handed by fifty-nine. The fifty-nine Dutch sailors took Dutch leave from the royal Dutch navy. They liked California too well to steam away from it.

"We must leave for Amsterdam at once," said an officer of the warship before departure. "We will leave these men behind. I don't see that the authorities can do anything in the matter. Personally, who can blame them? They have fallen in love with California—the big wages and the climate which never gets cold."

Wife Disappears; Husband in Search

A. T. Fowler, 421 Joaquin, San Leandro, has reported to the police that his wife, who went down town shopping four days ago, has disappeared. He believes she is either in Sacramento or Stockton, but is unable to account for her absence, declaring that she did not go away on account of domestic difficulties. Last Saturday, he says, she left the baby in the care of her mother and went to do the week-end shopping. After her failure to return her husband quit his work at the shipyard and has been seeking her in vain.

Labor Completes Its Bureau Plan

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The British labor delegates in Paris, who today completed a plan for an international labor bureau which would be laid before the peace conference, are greatly pleased at the speed with which they were able to complete the draft. The consultation lasted only two and one-half days. The labor bureau plan has been forwarded to employers in London.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water
Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts. There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body, which, if not eliminated every day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins, which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make any one a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

Wounded on Day Truce Is Declared

With but a few hours left of the war, Waldo Lee Clark, young mining engineer of Oakland, was slightly wounded in the fighting north of Chateau Thierry and is now recovering at Base Hospital No. 112.

In a letter received today from him by David E. Reading of Oakland, Clark tells his expectation of being returned soon in a hospital ship to this country and his plan to address Oakland residents on war topics after his return. Clark is a graduate of the University of California and served in the war in a regiment of engineers, which was cited for activity in the Meuse-Argonne campaign. Clark also participated in the second battle of the Marne and in the drive at Montfaucon. He received his injuries, not of a serious nature, on the day the armistice was signed.

PROMINENT ATTORNEY DEAD.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—Arthur Arthur Seymour, one of the most prominent attorneys of Northern California, died here last night of heart failure. He was 54 years old. He is survived by a widow, a daughter and a son, who is now in France.

JAPAN STICKS TO HER CLAIM FOR ISLANDS

LONDON, Jan. 30.—In a late edition of the Mail prints a report from its correspondent in Paris, who writes the treaties between England and Japan relative to the islands of the Northern Pacific, with the Arabs regarding Syria and the understanding with France as to the future status of Kamerun must be arbitrarily modified if not torn up. The Japanese delegates are angry and alarmed and declare their unalterable determination to claim the islands "as promised," the correspondent says, and adds: "These islands are really the crux of the whole situation." "The Australians," the correspondent continues, believe President Wilson's firm stand in this matter is due to his fear that Japanese occupation of the islands would impair his prestige in the United States and that he fears to meet a hostile congress in March if he agrees to the absolute retention of the islands by Japan. "Italian delegates frankly avow their claims to Fiume and insist that the promise made to the Dalmatian coast stipulated in the past of London must be made good. They declare that President Wilson's attitude regarding Fiume directly contradicts his declaration of the rights of peoples, outlined in his 'fourteen points.'"

SOLDIER'S WIFE GIVEN FORTUNE

SAN JOSE, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Dorothy Eaton McMahon, a young society matron of San Jose, becomes the heiress to nearly half a million dollars under the terms of the will of Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson Mitchell, whose estate is now being probated in the San Francisco superior court.

Mrs. McMahon's soldier husband, Roy McMahon, whom she married only a few months ago, was taken in the last draft and is now a military policeman at Bordeaux, France.

Mrs. Mitchell, who was a great-aunt of Mrs. McMahon, died in San Francisco in December, 1917. Her estate is now being probated by Charles J. Haggerty, successor as administrator to Frederick W. Eaton, now deceased.

Under the terms of Mrs. Mitchell's will Mrs. McMahon receives more than $400,000, and under the will of Mrs. McMahon's grandfather, W. Eaton, who was executor during his lifetime of the estate of his sister, Mrs. Mitchell, she receives the sum of $50,000 outright.

Mrs. McMahon is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Mockbee of San Jose.

Louis Oneal, who has been retained as counsel by Mrs. McMahon, filed in the superior court of San Francisco county a demand that all proceedings of every character, including all notices and proposed motions and requests for payments of money, be served on him as attorney for Mrs. McMahon.

When you suffer from rheumatism

Almost any man will tell you that Sloan's Liniment means relief

For practically every man has used it who has suffered from rheumatic aches, soreness of muscles, stiffness of joints, the results of weather exposure.

Women, too, by the hundreds of thousands, use it for relieving neuritis, lame backs, neuralgia, sick headache, clean, refreshing, soothing, economical, quickly effective. Say "Sloan's Liniment" to your druggist. Get it today—20c, 60c, $1.20.

Sloan's

Liniment

Kills Pain

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and shampoos are too harsh, too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain medicated coconut oil for this purpose and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this oil at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water, and then rub in a teaspoonful of this oil. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Maude Fulton's newest play, "A Stitch in Time," is crowding the Fulton playhouse with delighted theatergoers.

Quaint and charming is Miss Fulton as the victim of the "suburban tenth," but the settings and the crowd

FANEUF GOES TO REGULAR ARMY

Colonel Ralph J. Faneuf, formerly assistant postmaster here, who commanded the 143rd regiment of the Sun-shine Division in France and earlier was in the National Guard on the Mexican border, has been transferred to the United States regular army with the rank of colonel. He takes up his new duties at Camp Kearny today.

When Colonel Faneuf returned home his regiment at the Presidio he paraded with his first battalion in Oakland.

Colonel Faneuf, who is married and the father of three children, was born in the city of New York, and served in the regular army from 1901 to 1905.

Five other officers of Colonel Faneuf's command also have received transfers to the regular army since reporting at the Presidio. They include Captain A. G. Waddell, of Oakland, commanding B battery, who has been asked for his discharge, and Captain Howard Butler, of Oakland, who will be transferred to the officers' training school at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky.

It is estimated that one out of eight of the regular army and the national guard will be transferred to the regular army because of its proposed increase to 500,000 men.

SENATE ACTS FOR FOREIGN SHIP WORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—By unanimous vote the Senate committee today ordered favorably reported a bill by Senator Jones of Washington, taking from the shipping board authority to restrict construction of ships in American yards to foreign account. Senator Jones read a letter from Acting Chairman Donald of the shipping board, stating that officials of the board here were favorable to lifting the restrictions on steel ship construction, but at the direction of President Wilson it had not been done. Construction on wooden ship construction in American yards already have been lifted, it was stated.

President Wilson is withholding from foreign nations the privilege of having steel ships built in American yards until an agreement is reached at the peace conference that will give the American interpretation of "freedom of the seas" into the peace treaty.

Senator Fletcher, chairman of the Senate commerce committee, offered this explanation today of the refusal of the Shipping Board to permit building of steel ships for foreign account.

Persistent inquiries by shipyard officials and even a Senate resolution asking for information have failed to secure an adequate explanation from the Shipping Board of its present policy. "The Shipping Board has, however, taken off restrictions on building steel ships for domestic account."

"But our own people are holding back on shipping orders," Senator Fletcher said. "They are missing an opportunity the like of which there never has been before, and if they fail to seize it, the like of which there never will be again."

SUBSIDIES OPPOSED.
Senator Fletcher charged that there is at present a widespread propaganda for government subsidies of American shipping and also for repeal of the seaman's act. Subsidies, he said, are contrary to necessity and will not be granted by Congress. American vessels can be operated just as cheaply and far more efficiently under the seaman's act, he added, as those of any other power.

"As soon as the present unsettled conditions have passed," Senator Fletcher said, "it will be found that the United States can turn out ships just as cheaply as any other nation. This would not be true if the business of shipbuilding was still the fine art it has been in the past."

"Today the United States is not building, but is manufacturing ships. The parts are all manufactured in the shops, the riveting is done by machine; even the painting is done by spraying machines. We have the steel, we have the coal, we have the labor. In foreign countries today they are being forced to pay for steel as high as in America; therefore the United States can turn out vessels just as fast and just as cheaply as any nation."

GOVERNMENT MAY ACT.
If Americans continue holding back in the hope of getting a subsidy, Senator Fletcher predicted that the government would be compelled to adopt a policy of government ownership of all American shipping and to take advantage of the facilities that have been developed during the war.

"I do not care which policy is adopted," he said, "but we have the opportunity to use the first maritime nation in the world, and if private corporations will not seize it, the government must. I would not have the government operate the ships. I should prefer that this be done through leasing them to private concerns."

Fletcher described the cutting of British shipping rates by 60 per cent as the "beginning of the trade war." He did not think, however, that there was any cause for lamenting the fact that the Shipping Board has been compelled to order a similar cut in American rates in order to compete with the British.

COMMERCE TO OPEN.
"It means the reopening of commerce," he said. "It ushers in the new era for which we all have been waiting. The cut does not bring the rates down as low as they were before the war. It still leaves room for a handsome profit."

If British corporations make a further cut, Fletcher said, a similar one would be made in American rates. This was necessary, he said, if the present opportunity for expansion is to be taken advantage of.

The cut in rates, Fletcher did not apply to Pacific rates, which always had been low because of Japanese competition. Fletcher said, a similar cut in the Pacific service had given a remarkable demonstration of their worth in that the entire Hawaiian sugar crop had been transported with fewer claims for damages than when the crop was carried in steel bottoms. The wooden ships, he said, are being used in the West India trade, in bringing produce from Chile and in the trade with the Philippines and Hawaii, but not in the transatlantic trade.

"The trouble is that the importance rates on wooden ships are three times as high as on steel ships," he commented. "Little experience proved that damage to cargoes in these vessels is far less than in steel bottoms."

New Auto Service to Tap Oakland
W. P. Beauchamp has been granted by the railroad commission a permit to operate an auto service for the transportation of passengers between Oakland, Newark and New York.

He is to be the privilege of serving customers between the two cities. The commission found that a large number of passengers were being transported by the Transportation Company and the Pullman Auto Stage Association, whose routes between the two cities were justified at all points but Center ville, and issued a permit with that limitation.

Growers Object to Lifting Corn Ban
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Corn belt farmers are sending vigorous protests to their congressmen against the war trade board's lifting of the ban on importation of Argentine corn.

In their behalf, Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, has asked the food administration whether measures have been taken to meet Argentine competition. Recent announcement of the lifting of the embargo caused a sharp drop in American corn.

E Battery Men Are Promised Jobs

Enviably Record Made by Heroes

"With that same indomitable sportsman-like spirit which characterizes the American in games at home, the United States troops that took part in the great war only knew one way to go and that was forward," said Captain Al G. Waddell, commander of E Battery, 1454 field artillery, in a talk before the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Oakland yesterday. Captain Waddell and thirty-five men under his command were guests of the committee.

J. R. Millar, manager of the California Cotton Mills, acted as chairman.

Mayor John L. Davis extended a welcome to the boys, most of whom are Oaklanders, and assured them that they would experience little difficulty in procuring employment in this city. The mayor said in substance:

"WILL FIND PLACES. Captain Waddell and boys of E Battery, it gives me the greatest pleasure as official representative of the people of Oakland to extend to you a cordial heartfelt welcome. We are glad that you have returned to sunny California, and I know that you are glad to get back. You will get work here in Oakland. I have talked with the heads of shipbuilding plants and other manufacturers and they have assured me that they will come to you and that you will find assistance in getting employment. Again, I most heartily welcome you."

At the conclusion of Captain Waddell's talk, H. C. Caplow, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, said in part:

"WAR ENDED TOO SOON. I am more interested in this report of Captain Waddell than any I have heard. It is fitting and proper that the manufacturers' committee should entertain you, for you are a real manufacturer, having turned out a perfect product in these boys that you have brought back to us. I am convinced that the war finished just a little too soon. I am only sorry that you did not get an opportunity to get at them. With such spirit as you have described to us these boys would have given a splendid account of themselves. I am certain that you will have the privilege of looking you men in the face and congratulating you. We indeed welcome you."

After a solo by George Anderson, who responded to an encore, Captain Waddell was introduced.

USE LAW MATERIAL. The officer told under what difficulties 200 raw men were recruited here by Walter J. Petersen, former chief of police, and how later they were taken to Camp Kearny. Upon leaving, the men had no uniforms, said Captain Waddell, and after reaching the camp it was necessary to begin training for service overseas with materials that were extremely scarce. The government at that time not having the necessary equipment at the camp. The speaker said that Garbo wire was pressed into service as telephone lines and other crude materials were utilized. After telling of the rapidity with which the men under Captain Petersen were rounded into form as artillerymen, Captain Waddell said:

"After a few months of training an artillery regiment was formed at Camp Kearny. The chief of artillery from Washington came out, inspected the regiment and pronounced it the best regiment he had inspected."

RECORD IS ENVIABLE. "The boys that went overseas as members of that regiment made an enviable record as regiment and as battery. Several men were left here to round out another regiment. Not that they were not able in every way for service overseas, but because they were needed here to round out the new regiment. This was done and the next regiment was pronounced the best."

"This regiment, of which E Battery was a part, sailed overseas in August. We were sent to a French artillery training school and worked with a will to learn the game to the best advantage. We put down a barrage at the school and the officer in charge said he had never before seen such a splendid barrage at the school."

After telling of the rapid promotion of Captain Walter J. Petersen, who was picked to take charge of the police system in France, and who is now engaged in similar work in other parts of France, Captain Waddell said:

MAN ARE WOUNDED. "Of the original battery, thirty-six men came back. Some who left are represented by gold stars in homes. Many were wounded and mangled and are in hospitals. Others are over there performing duties that have been assigned to them."

"There was never a finer body of men. There was only one countermarch in E Battery while it was abroad, that being of minor consequence. I have brought these boys back to you better citizens than when they left. They have seen what unrest and rebellion have done in other countries. Should the United States have another war I am sure that these boys would go to the front with the same spirit, the same patriotism, that has characterized their work abroad. They are not drunkards or loafers, but worthy, patriotic American citizens."

MAN SPORTSMANLIKE. "While we were considered fit in every respect to become a part of the first army corps, we have gone into active service on the fighting line within a few days, the armistice robbed us of that privilege. I would be unjust to England, France and Italy to say that we signed them with that true sportsmanlike spirit which characterizes an American in fighting or in play. We would be unjust to England, France and Italy to say that we signed them with that true sportsmanlike spirit which characterizes an American in fighting or in play. We would be unjust to England, France and Italy to say that we signed them with that true sportsmanlike spirit which characterizes an American in fighting or in play."

FORGIVE READILY. "The American is a bitter, tenacious, forgiving sportsman. He is slow enough to forgive when he is beaten. In fact, the French think we are entirely too quick to forgive. The American boys divided their food, baccos and other things with the German prisoners. I will tell you now that prisoners in the American compounds were better treated, better fed, than they were in the German army. Prisoners were only too glad to remain in the prison camps. They had no desire to return to their comrades. But they had a profound respect for the fighting ability of the Americans, and captured officers were not backward in admitting this fact."

Captain Waddell said that Colonel Faneau had been assigned to the regular army and had left for Camp Lewis, while Lieutenant-Colonel Bourne had been sent to Salt Lake to assist in the work of demobilizing the 145th Field Artillery.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if Tongue Is Coated, Breath Hot or Stomach Sour.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little stem is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, catch-remember, a good "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for all ages and growths printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by a California Fig Syrup Company.—Advertisement.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Tastes like candy and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for poor results it beats anything else you ever tried. It easily stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it.

Four 25-cent bottles of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Instead of sugar syrup, if desired, thus you make a full pint—a family supply—without costing more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying tickle that loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway spruce, famous for its healing effect on the mucous membrane.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "25 ounces of Pinex" and directions and don't accept anything else. It will take time to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics)

If you are willing to spend a few minutes' time in your room using a delicate paste, you can easily banish every hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

Merchant Marine Is Held Big Problem

BAITMORE, Jan. 30.—"The biggest question in the United States is the merchant marine question," said Secretary of the Navy Daniels in an address here at the annual Eastern Shore banquet of the United States. Daniels declared that the United States cannot afford to stop building ships unless it wishes to withdraw into its own narrow limits and surrender its share of the trade and wealth of the world to other countries.

"If we have wisdom and sportsing blood," said the secretary, "we will carry commerce to the uttermost parts of the world and bar-

WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

J. W. Shane Wants to Go Out and Tell All the People About Tanlac

"I feel just like going from house to house and telling the people about Tanlac," said J. W. Shane, 537 Sanchez street, San Francisco, an employee of the Union Iron Works for the past year and a half. "My health hasn't been good for ten years," he continued, "and everything I would eat seemed to lodge in the pit of my stomach and would not go down. I started on Tanlac and in 21 days, which was four weeks, I began to feel better. I lost 174 pounds in 21 days, which was a weight I had never lost in my life. I didn't seem able to get any more food down, and my stomach trouble was gone. I was so weak and stiff, I could not move. I was in bed for a long time, and after the flu left me I was so sore and stiff I could hardly get up. I began to feel better, and I began to have headaches every day. I was so weak and miserable, I could not get up. I never would get my old strength back. Tanlac was certainly just what I needed. I began to feel better, and I began to have headaches every day. TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES.

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and no class must be more careful to retain a reputation in a cup of hot water and your shampoo. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After it is used the hair dries rapidly, without uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL

There are two selling events of this store that are well known and usually antedated by most of our regular customers.

We refer to the January and July clearance sales of our hand bags. We have made quite a specialty of hand bags for a number of years and have also made it a practice to have a special thirty-day clean-up during the months of January and July.

The sale now going on is of special interest for the reason that attractive hand bags are not easy to find at moderate prices.

Our buyers went into the market for hand bags and the beginning of the war and kept at the task diligently all through the war period. The most dependable manufacturers were well acquainted with the requirements of our trade and we were among the first stores to be offered the few choice lots of hand bags that came into the store.

The present sale is the clean-up of these and original values and you may expect to find some exceedingly attractive prices for this market.

All of our leather hand bags have been reduced 25% and all of our velvet bags have been reduced 25%.

In addition we have taken out a number of miscellaneous bags and given them a special sale. For example, we have one bag at 95c, another at $1.25, and a third at $1.50.

LEFTS LOSE 25 SEATS IN PARLIAMENT

CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 30.—The party of the Lefts, headed by the premier, Gunnar Knudsen, lost twenty-five seats in Parliament in the election recently held. Instead of eighty seats which it controlled during the last session of the Storting, the party now controls fifty-five seats. Opposition is divided between the Right, which have increased their membership from 24 to 32 and the Socialists, who have 15 seats instead of 19 as in the previous Parliament. The Knudsen party, or Lefts, still is the strongest division in the Storting, but now has considerably less than a majority of the 126 members. It is expected that this will involve the reconstruction of the cabinet.

The most conspicuous event in the election was the defeat of the Socialists, who were regarded as politically one of the strongest men in the House and one of the most staunch supporters of the cabinet.

Carter Is Asked For His Fact Motor Vehicle Charges Resented

Assemblyman Henry Carter "spoke without knowledge of facts" when he voiced censure of the State Motor Vehicle Department, according to the opinion of P. J. Tehaney, secretary of the State Board of Control and acting superintendent of the motor vehicle department. Assemblyman Carter asserted that the department is being conducted in an extravagant manner and he cited the expense of work somewhat similar in other states.

In reply to this censure, Tehaney has issued a statement in which he explains the reason that he holds Carter to be wrong, and in which he expressed willingness to have conducted an investigation by the result of which he is willing to be judged and to have the department judged. In his statement Tehaney says:

"The purpose of the public statement of Henry A. Carter of the Assembly, made without any knowledge of the facts and apparently with no knowledge of the law—although he is a lawyer—is obvious.

COURT INVESTIGATION.

There can be no objection to an investigation, in fact, we court it, such an investigation can only redound to the benefit of the department, as the legislators will then have a comprehensive idea of the features of the law, and the collection of licenses has become only incidental to its protective provisions. The only objection lies in the besmirching manner in which the investigation was suggested.

The only objection lies in the besmirching manner in which the investigation was suggested.

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The situation both on the Clyde and in Belfast, where strikes are in progress, is spreading rapidly. In Belfast, because of the fact that the Belfast manufacturing firms generating their own electric current for power had to close down their plants, as their workers joined the strikers.

The blacksmiths, the boiler-makers and the shipwrights decided to notify their employers that the condition of the strikers they asked should embody an increase of 30 per cent in the gross-earning powers of piece workers.

Along the Clyde many corporations are being struck, compelling the corporations to stop the current for public works, retaining such current as they were able to generate for the hospitals and for street lighting.

BOLESHVISTS RESPONSIBLE.

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The general strike in the north of England and Ireland are Bolsheviks, British labor leaders declared today. They said the strikers are under the influence of local boards organized like Soviets, which are openly opposed to the authorized heads of the national federation of trades unions. It was further charged that the strikes are being partially financed by the Russian Bolsheviks.

"The strikes are the result of agitation by 'shop stewards' who are English Bolsheviks," said E. J. Smith, national secretary of the Federation of Engineers and Shipbuilders, told the United Press today.

"They are a section of local boards, which are organized like Soviets and are in open opposition to the authorized heads of the National Federation of Trades Unions. It is reported that these 'shop stewards' are receiving money from Lenin."

FEDERATION OPPOSED.

"The executive council of the federation voted yesterday to disclaim any connection with the strikes except the one called in the Tyne district for a fortnight or so, which is likely to be settled in a few days."

"I have learned that the 'shop stewards' have invited the local boards of England, Scotland, and probably Ireland, to attend a congress next week in Barrow-in-Furness (eighteen miles northwest of Lancaster), which is a stronghold of British Bolshevism. The purpose of this congress, I understand, is to endorse the 'shop stewards' or Soviet movement and draw up a definite program. The 'shop stewards' recently sent seven agitators through the districts which are now erupting. It is believed certain they caused the present upheavals."

UP TO GOVERNMENT.

"The men now striking voted in November to accept a forty-seven-hour week. Apparently flushed with the success of their efforts, they are now independently trying to force a forty-hour week. The government is faced with a dilemma. If it deals with the strikers it means recognition of the independent organization and consequent retraction of the government's decision to treat with the authorized heads of organized labor."

About a quarter of a million men are on strike in various parts of the United Kingdom. Shipbuilders are completely tied up and other industries, particularly coal mines, are seriously affected through sympathetic strikes.

Belfast, where rioting already has occurred, is completely dominated by the strikers and business is at a standstill.

SEND ULTIMATUM.

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

GLASGOW, Jan. 30.—Striking shipbuilders raided the yards today and dragged out several non-union men. A serious clash was narrowly averted.

The strikers sent an ultimatum to the provost marshal declaring that unless the employers consent to a 40-hour week by tomorrow they will cut off the city's entire supply of electricity. Many municipal electrical employees already have gone on strike and it is said there is only enough current for street lights and hospitals.

Medicine Used by Monks

It is claimed that Monks of ancient days knew of more than three hundred species of medicinal plants used in general for medicines by these religious orders. While centuries have passed, with all the advances made in medical science, many of our most successful remedies are today made from the roots and herbs of the field, like that good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills, and is now considered the standard remedy.—Advertisement.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritation. Hitherto may cause premature generation and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain and irritation in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Huxford Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Make Your Own Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "I have been using your Gray Hair Remedy for some time and it has turned my gray hair to a light brown, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home."

Merely get a box of Orle's powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in 4 ozs. of distilled or rain water and wash it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is perfectly safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

Dickson Chosen Editor of Los Angeles Paper

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Edward A. Dickson, member of the State Board of Control, has been named editor of the Los Angeles Express. It was announced here today by Guy C. Earl, brother of the late E. T. Earl, owner of the Express.

Dickson has forwarded his resignation to Governor Stephens and will assume his duties in Los Angeles immediately, Earl announced.

Dickson was closely associated with the Earl editorial policy of the Express during the lifetime of Earl with T. Earl. The paper will continue to be published by the Edwin T. Earl estate.

Mr. Dickson will hold the same position toward the Express as that held by his brother, Earl said.

'Donahue Day' Comes Round in Courtroom

"Lemme get my old school teacher, Judge Donahue, which educated me at Pleasanton, Cal.," lawyer pleaded Alonzo Hughton, accused of burglary today when he appeared for arraignment in Police Judge Samuel's court.

"Humph! He didn't educate you very well," answered the Judge. "How ever, I'll continue the case at your request."

"William Donahue, for larceny," called the clerk.

"This is Donahue day around here," demanded Prosecuting Attorney "Bill" Hennessey. Just then Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donahue of the other police court, stepped in. "It is," declared Hennessey.

The Donahue on trial was no relation to the former Judge, however. He was arraigned on a charge of petty larceny.

Two Petitions in Bankruptcy Asked

Applications for voluntary bankruptcy petitions were made by Harold W. Sites, an Oakland salesman, and Mrs. Georgia Brown of Hayward. The Sites petition was filed in the Federal court at $125. Mrs. Brown, who is a rancher, admits $570 debts and $35 assets, which are claimed to be exempt.

LABOR PLANS DECISION ON DUE TODAY

By LOWELL MELLETT.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERNE, Jan. 30.—The important question of whether the American Federation of Labor will be officially represented at the international labor and Socialist congress in Berne was expected to be reached at a conference of Samuel Gompers with British, French and Belgian laborites, who are opposed to the international conference and want a separate inter-allied labor meeting.

The situation as it now exists is: The American peace delegation has indicated that clearly it prefers to have the American labor representatives attend the Berne meeting because they know the international delegates are pledged to work in every way possible to further President Wilson's program.

GOMPER'S VIEWS.

Gompers, however, not only is opposed to admitting German and Russian delegates to the meeting, but charges that a great German propaganda fund has been sent to Berne to influence the meeting in favor of the Central powers.

When Wilson talked with Gompers recently he did not commit himself further than to ask whether Gompers was going to Berne. The latter then told the President he had uncovered information regarding the alleged German propaganda fund. The President expressed surprise.

Absolutely ignoring the attitude of American labor, the British government, which sent Arthur Henderson and other labor leaders to Berne—almost with its blessing—has arranged to receive reports of the proceedings direct from Henderson. The American peace delegates will receive no such reports unless officially accredited labor representatives are sent to the congress, although other Americans will represent the delegation in Berne.

BERKELY MAY AGREE.

If Gompers finally decides to ignore the Berne conference, the American peace delegation will be represented by Major E. Gorge Berry, former president of the Pressmen's Union, who some time ago was appointed as "liaison officer" between the peace delegates and the labor representatives.

Some members of the American Federation of Labor party here are inclining toward the belief that as the war is over this should remove Gompers' objection to receive the German delegation. Gompers and his assistants have been inactive since coming to Paris, aside from a few meetings with others who are to attend the Berne conference.

Belgian labor delegates declared today they would not meet with German representatives in Berne until they had consulted the Belgian Labor Council.

NEW SCOUT CAMP TO BE DEDICATED

The Boy Scouts of America, representing the Oakland-Piedmont council, will celebrate the anniversary of their organization during the week beginning February 7 and ending February 12, with various events. During this week, the Scouts will check up on the military conditions in various districts of the city, they will attend church on February 9, on which day the pastors are requested to make special addresses to the boys. Father and son banquets will be held by each troop during the week.

Saturday afternoon, February 8, at 1:30 the entire organization will assemble at the end of the Park Boulevard carline, marching to the new scout reserve for the purpose of dedicating this beautiful new camp site.

Vice-president Capwell will make the address of dedication at the camp and J. R. Knowland, on behalf of the Red Cross, will present a certificate to those Scouts who served at the Civic Auditorium during the first influenza epidemic.

These certificates of appreciation will be signed by Mayor Davis, representing the city of Oakland, as well as officials of the Red Cross.

The afternoon will be devoted to Scout contests of all kinds, followed by a barbecue and closing with a rousing campfire with campfire stunts.

All parents of those interested in the Scout movement are cordially invited to be present upon this occasion. The camp is located at the head of Diamond canyon, one and one-half miles from the end of the Park Boulevard car line.

Three touring automobiles will find a good road right into the camp proper.

In order to reach the camp by automobile, take the Moraga road, turning left on the road leading to Leavitt Mills; follow this road for about a block, passing through a large green gate, from which point follow the road up the hill to the left, leading directly into the scout camp.

Hennessey Acts in Conciliator's Role

"Bill" Hennessey, prosecuting attorney, enacted the role of Cupid today in the police court when E. M. Embazon, a clerk, was before Police Judge George Samuel on a failure to provide charge. Hennessey heard the man's story, and that of the wife, that Embazon had escorted them both into the judge's chambers. Sounds of his eloquence floated out for a minute—and then husband and wife came out arm in arm.

"You hear, if you will continue this for a couple of days," he announced, "I think it will all be smoothed out," and the judge so acted.

Hennessey says that relatives were in the man's home for the day, the turmoil, and that he hopes to effect a permanent reconciliation.

Island Quartermaster Influenza Victim

VALLEJO, Jan. 30.—John Donald, quartermaster in the hull department at Mare Island, passed away at his home in Florida street Wednesday after an illness of three weeks caused by stomach trouble and influenza-pneumonia. The deceased was 41 years of age and is survived by his widow as well as a son and daughter and other relatives in San Francisco and the north. Donald had made his home here for the past eighteen years.

Prisoners Fail in Attempt to Escape

An attempt to escape from the prisoners' dock in Police Judge George Samuel's court was made this morning by Archie Bond and Austin Mann, drug addict and drug peddler respectively, who had just a few minutes before been sentenced to serve a hundred days in jail for pay a fine of $50 for violation of the state poison act. Only the quick action of Corporal of Police John Fahy, the bailiff in the court, prevented the two from escaping.

Corporal Fahy was busy inside the courtroom when he happened to glance into the dock. As he looked Bond and Mann had just forced the door leading into the corridor. He dashed through the courtroom door of the dock, which he had left open, and caught both prisoners before they could get more than a few yards down the corridor.

the defendant, and hurried away to recover her bail money from the grinning John Fahy, bailiff.

SOCIETY WOMAN IS IGNORANT OF COURT PLEAS

Mrs. Thomas Olney, Piedmont society woman, had ten minutes of tribulation in Judge Samuel's police court today. She had been arrested for leaving her automobile on a forbidden spot at Thirteenth street and Broadway.

"How will you plead, madam?" asked the judge.

"Oh—any way you want me to," answered she.

"Why?" said the judge. "I don't care, but you have to plead one way or the other, you know."

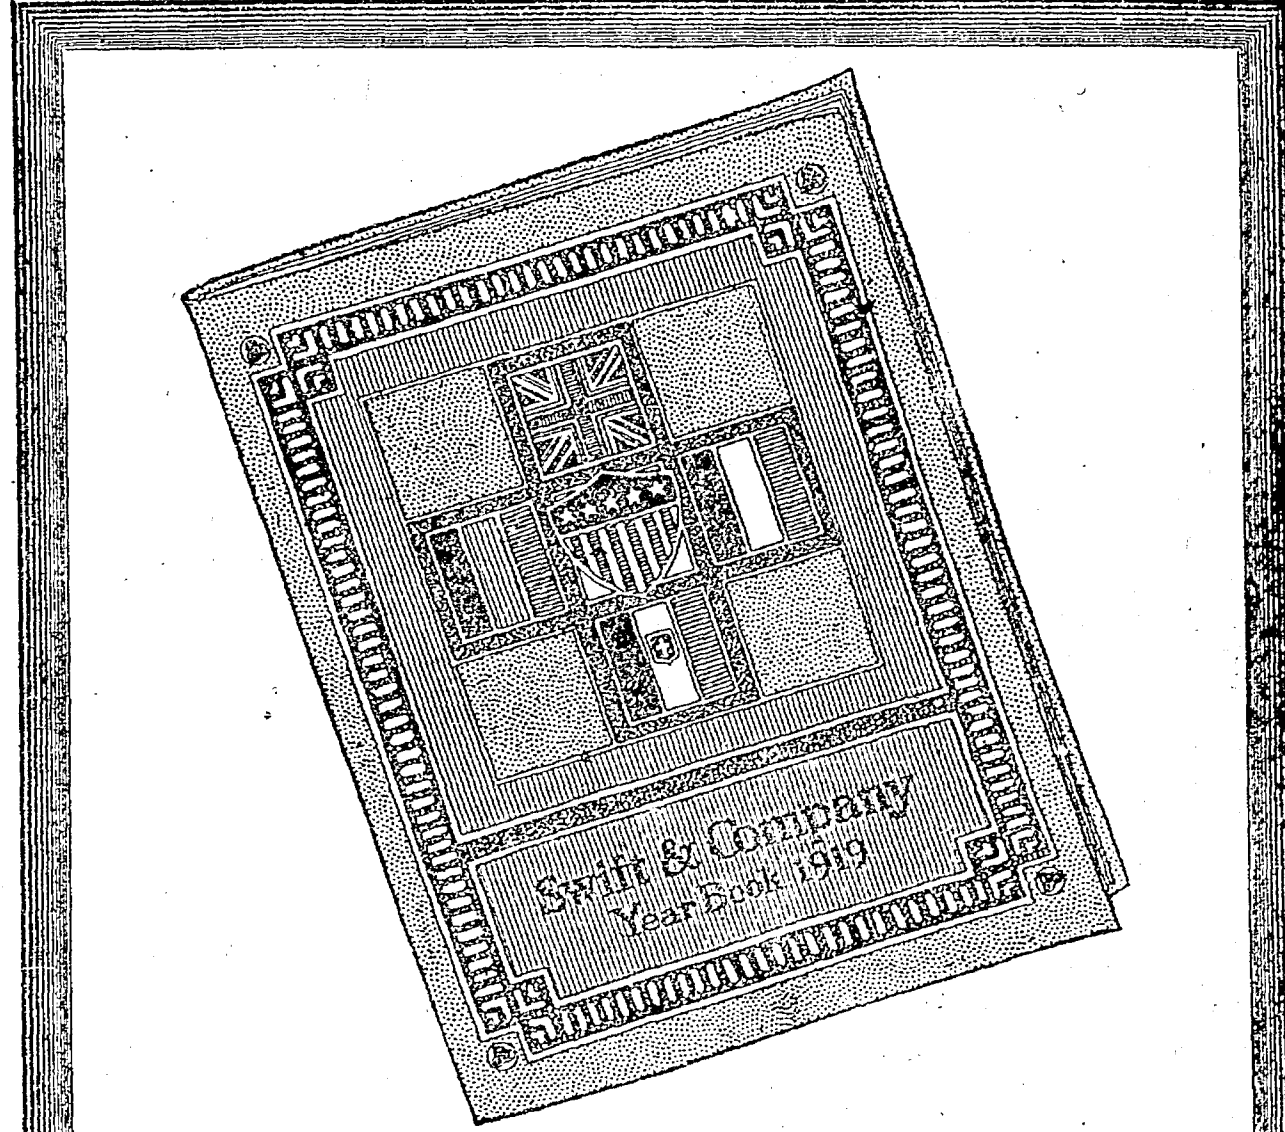

"Oh, I don't know anything about courts, but what will it cost me to get out?" asked she. "What do I do when I plead guilty?"

"Madam, you are an amateur in a police court," said his honor. "After you've been arrested a few times you'll know the system. However, this time I am going to let you go, and please watch the street signs after this, and find out where you can't park your machine."

"Oh, thank you so much," said

HERE'S YOUR OLD FRIEND, JOYFUL JENNIE SHE IS THE TRIBUNE'S LITTLE CHEERUPIST

Curtains,
Collars & Outlets
CHEER-UP COLUMN
By Elsie Robinson

Good evening, sister.

How is that girl getting along, sitting up and taking nourishment, or does the old world still feel like the wrong end of a wash day? Did you read about that Male Person that the policeman handcuffed to the lamp post on the street in San Francisco the other day? Up finds Miss Person and Friend, hanging up the street at empty A. M. hanging the door bug as they toddled along. Seeing as this wasn't Victory night or New Year's eve except devoted to gathering those stray lambs. He gathered them all right, but just as they were headed for the fold friend faded into the shadows. Cripple started after him, handcuffing Male Person firmly to the nearest lamp post. In due time he untangled friend from the shadows and came back for the rest of the flock. But the Male Person had gone—fled, fled, flown, beaten it. Taken the handcuffs, too, AND the lamp post! And they're looking for him yet.

Now that did had what I call the proper spirit. Do you think a temporary disability was going to hamper him? Not on your life. I'll bet all the banks in Christendom could break, the price of bologna advance 50 cents, and the kids come down with mumps and he'd still grin. You can't down a real hero or the sport even if they do have to shuffle through their remaining days with a lamp post handcuffed to their profiles. Have you a lamp post? I have—two or three of 'em. One of 'em is here, I'm pious too. Always was and always hated it. Think of a little old thing like that getting a person's goat? But it did. I'm just mentioning it to sister, so you'll loosen up and feel like a good gal and acknowledge that you have a lamp post, too. Perhaps it's a little thing like this that makes a girl being very pretty or not having the prettiest clothes. Or perhaps it's a big thing—stickness or trouble—perhaps the fine chum has gone on the long hunt, but whatever it is (and I'm sorry it's a big hunt, sister) take it from me we are all in the same boat. All of us have a lamp post wished on us sooner or later. And most of us are here to deal with it with a diamond hitch. But remember the Male Person, honey. He wanted a more cheerful climate so he hepped right along and got the handcuffs, lamp post, and all. There's always a new adventure just around the corner and new adventures are the certified remedy for curing that handcuffed—a lamp-post feeling.

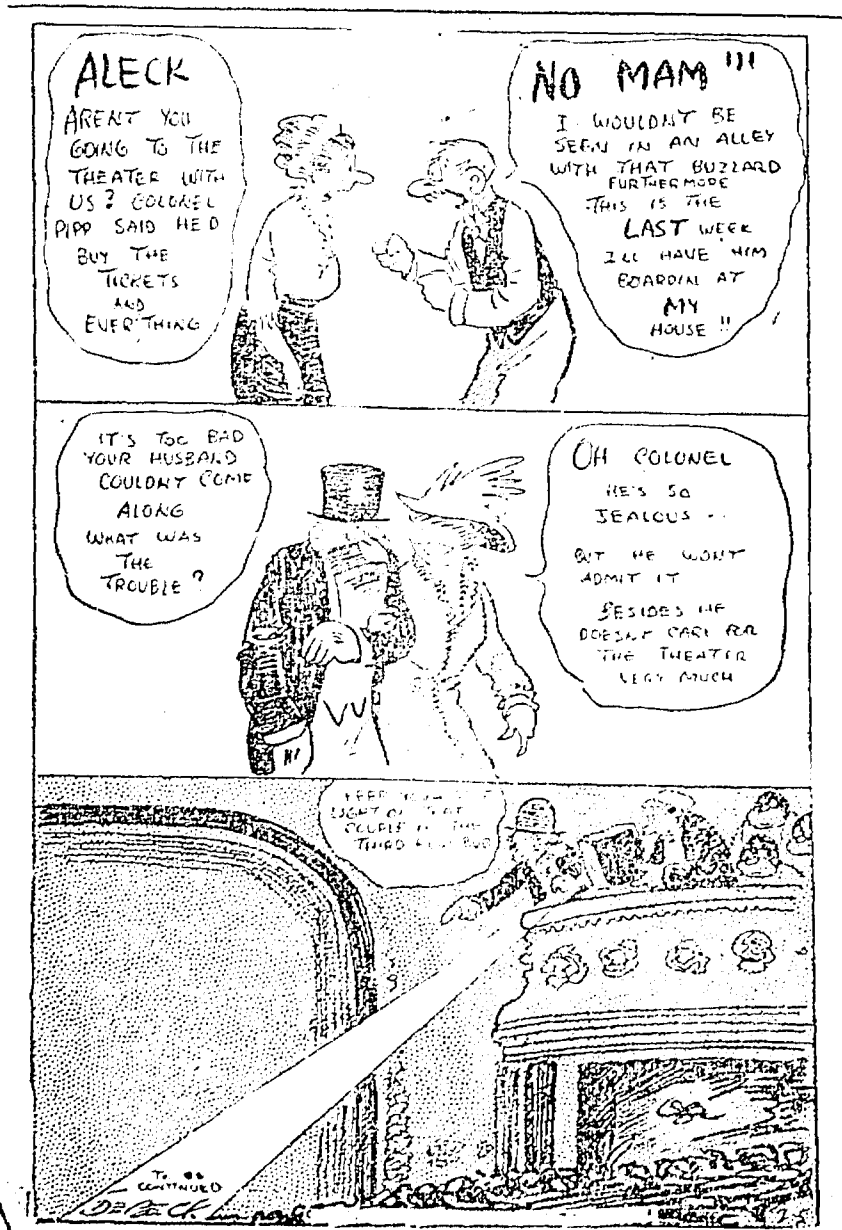

Here's a tiny new adventure today. More sewing foolishness because, being a woman, spring means to me the merry whirl of the sewing machine and the ripple of the busting thread. It's a plan for that you dress you'll want when you go down to the tolls or that evening gown you'd like so much to have but feel you can't afford. You go right ahead and have it, sister. Don't let that lamp post of the high cost of a black but mighty low and cheerful. All you'll need is enough white cloth or linen, or net if it's for evening wear, to make the simplest sort of the dress because, with such novel trimming as I've pictured on our joyful Jennie today, the simpler the dress style the more effective the result. And some scraps of the mirth of a yard each of pale pink, yellow and green material for trimming. If it's to be a rustic dress have the trimming of a good quality of muslin, if not have the trimming of silk or satin, the trimmings would be lovely there. Make the dress by the desired pattern and apply decoration this way. Cut out circles of pink and yellow material of about 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Cut simple leaf shapes from the green. Don't mind if you're no Maxfield Parrish with the scissors. It will be a joyous work of art when you are through no matter how crudely the cutting is done. Make the leaf shapes about 3 inches long. Turn under all edges and arrange the groups as pictured, cutting away the underlapping parts if you wish. Baste down, then outline all edges with a simple outline, buttonhole or chain stitch. Do this either in white or in some one or more contrasting colors. The suggested combination would be ducky all outlined in a bluish lavender-leaves and all. The evening dress could have the decorations outlined in gold thread. Think how lovely a gray gown would be with the "flowers" of ivory and burnt orange, the leaves of black and the whole cluster outlined in gold. That would be the joyful Jennie then!

But don't forget Friend Husband while you are darning up. It wouldn't put any cheer into his young life to have you popping blobs of purple and green on the bottoms of his trousers, so do something that will. Here is something that will make him feel as contented as if he had swallowed a whole rose garden. Arrange alternate layers of sausage meat and boiled cabbage in a baking dish, the cabbage having been boiled until it was very soft, then drained, washed and mixed with pepper, salt and some minced pickles. You have them. Have the top layer of sausage. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake about 20 minutes. Wait until he is well under way with his second helping and then ask him for the net for that new dress! Here's betting you get it.

EARTHQUAKE DEF.
In 1907, on this date, an earthquake deflected the Gulf stream. Fish found that warm schools became cold and weathered weather along the coast were given a new alibi which is still working.

The form of government for the new German republic is said to be patterned after that of the United States. Wonder if they can't get a congressional committee in whose hands a bill may be relied upon to sleep forever.

Advice to King Manuel: If you do go into Lisbon see that the odor of mothballs has been removed from your uniform, crown, and scepter.

SPRING SONG CONTEST.
No. 1
Each year a million poets sing
Their welcome to the days of Spring.

They sing of skies of deepest blue,
And flowers—every kind and hue;
They sing, they chortle, and they chant;
They puff, they wheeze, they gasp,
And when at last their task is
done,
They struggle with the same old rhymes
Of balmy zephyrs, sunny climes:
And when at last their task is
done,
A harder one still lies before.
For though its hard to sing of
spring—
It's harder still to sell the thing!

PLAY-PARTY FROCKS

Designers Turn Their Attention to Children,
These Late Winter Days

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW.

Frocks of sturdy linen and gingham are used for morning and playtime wear. Linen is smart, but gingham washes better.

Georgette crepe is employed for party frock for little girls as well as for the big sisters. Pink is the favorite color.

A smart little frock that will be very useful as a play or school costume is developed in Belgian blue chambray. It is cut with a seam on the shoulder, and the skirt is slightly gored to give a proper flare to the little skirt.

Two slashed button holes act as points of egress for a strapped belt that crosses in the front, and continues around the back, where it ties in two short ends. Two pockets are slashed and bound below this unusual beltline.

A round collar of white linen is solidly buttoned along the edge in black. A tie of black grosgrain ribbon completes the neck.

The festive little party frock is made of pink georgette crepe and soft cream lace. Old-fashioned "Mother Hubbard" of pink georgette crepe is mounted on a drop skirt of net. To this drop skirt is attached a row of face edging that appears below the looped-up skirt of georgette crepe that is held with a dainty bouquet of French flowers in shades of pink, blue and yellow.

Over the yoke of pink georgette crepe falls a bolero jacket of cream lace. Puffed sleeves of georgette crepe are picot-edged to form a ruffle, which is gathered with French flowers like those on the skirt.

Both the yoke and sleeves are lined with white net. Pink silk socks and white kid slippers with pink rosettes of flowers complete a very lovely little costume that will make it an ideal flower girl's frock at a spring wedding.

Occasionally, however, if these baking dishes are allowed to scorch they get browned or blackened so that they require more strenuous treatment. Then the cleansing powder must be applied, and will quickly remove all signs of scorching.

Although soda water is not generally a good thing to use for the cleansing of dishes, on account of its deleterious effect on the hands, it may be used occasionally to give an extra luster to the glass or pottery baking dishes. A brief immersion in hot soda water makes them clean and lustrous, and helps to remove the yellow tinge which sometimes comes to glassware after it has been in use for a while.

Adelle Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"Any mail for me?"

Dicky asked the stereotyped question on taking off his overcoat as he expected a voluminous post. In reality there are rarely any letters for him among those left by the stalwart young postman at our door. Advertising letters, tradesmen's bills, an occasional card from one of the old acquaintances—I am weary of my teaching days—these make up our mail. My value as a correspondent is almost zero, for I loathe writing letters, so I rarely get any, and Dicky receives all of his business letters and much of his personal correspondence at his studio. Even his mother addresses her letters to him at the studio, confining her epistolary attentions in my direction to picture postal cards.

"I am very glad to be able to answer 'Yes' for once," I returned, forcing a note of gaiety into my voice. It was but two days after my shopping expedition into the city, when I had seen Dicky buying a $10 hat and an expensive suit for his father, the Virginia art student whom he had rescued from the crush of the mob outside Madison Square Garden four months before.

True, his explanation of the incident to the Durkes and me at our little dinner afterward had been most plausible. My understanding was not caused by disbelieve in his statement that he had bought the articles because Miss Fairfax was to wear them in posing for the illustrations of a Southern novel he was making, and that the beautiful imported hat he intended for my own use.

The real reason for my delirium was this: I had seen upon the child-like face of Edith Fairfax. That she loved Dicky, he who ran might read, and the fear of another episode in my life such as Grand Dragon's infatuation for my husband had brought me, made me most wretched, although I tried my best to hide it.

Dicky looked at me shrewdly as I spoke. I knew that he was not deceived by my air of gaiety, but knew also that he would say nothing which might provoke any discussion of the awkward situation into which we had been plunged.

"Who's my correspondent?" he asked with a debonair cheerfulness matching mine.

"As I haven't read your letter, I don't know," I retorted smiling, "but from the postmark I judge Robert Savarin is the writer."

WHAT THE LETTER CONTAINED.
"Fine business! Trot it out," he exclaimed with an enthusiasm which I knew was neither assumed nor exaggerated. The reverential boyish awe with which he had looked upon me in earlier years has never left him. In fact, I think it was intensified by our dramatic discovery of the elder artist in the California farmhouse, where he had been literally "dead to the world" for 15 years.

I handed Dicky the letter and he tore it open eagerly.

"What a letter!" he cried, as he scanned the single page of scholarly script, "he's going to make us that long-promised visit right away, and I imagine he's getting in the California farmhouse, where he had been literally 'dead to the world' for 15 years."

"I think his script is fascinating," I replied, as he scanned the single page of scholarly script, "he's going to make us that long-promised visit right away, and I imagine he's getting in the California farmhouse, where he had been literally 'dead to the world' for 15 years."

"My very dear friend," the letter began. "When we parted last autumn you gave me and I accepted an invitation to make your home my headquarters when I should decide to revisit New York after my long exile from it. There has been no day since then when I have not been thinking of you, and I must be back in my mountains when those first wonderful greens come to the trees."

"I am accepting your invitation in the spirit which characterized its offer to me. If for any reason my presence in your home just now would be inconvenient, I am sure you will not hesitate to tell me. Cordially yours,

"ROBERT SAVARIN."

"I am so glad!" Dicky looked anxiously at me. "Will you be able to manage having him here? It's quite an undertaking, for we don't know his tastes at all."

"Of course I can manage," I returned spiritedly. "And I am so glad he's coming. Of course, you want him to have your room with him here?"

"Sure," Dicky replied laconically. "And of course, we must entertain for him while he is here. Better call it up about it right away, don't you think?"

I started, and then spoke decidedly. "No, I am afraid we will have to leave Lillian out of this."

The Fault of Man

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE FAULT OF MAN here in all things if we'll find it. No cloud goes drifting 'cross the sky but has the sun behind it. The Lord ain't making ugliness to mar His marvelous plan.

When something spoils the landscape here, the work's been done by man.

Since Eve and Adam first went wrong and told themselves they knew

Much better than did God Himself just what they ought to do, The human race has kept right on in that bull-headed way.

Quitting the paths that God has mapped out and wandering astray.

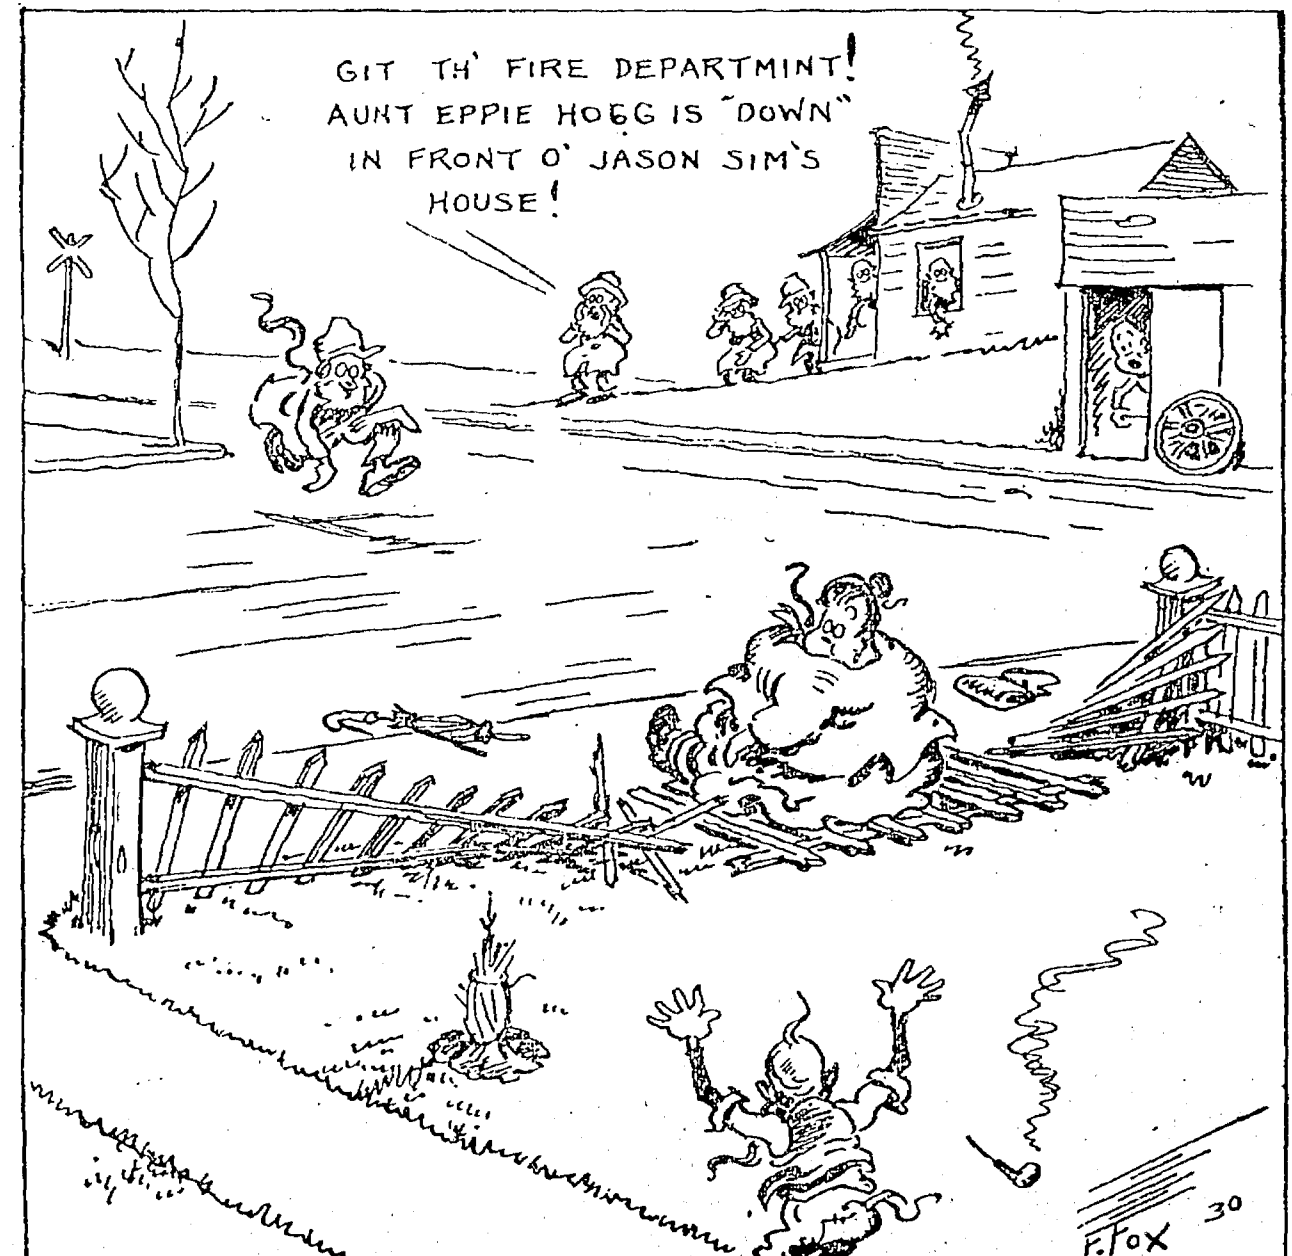

In one way or another we are Eves and Adams still. We pile up debts of vain regrets and sadly pay the bill; We listen to the serpent's words (they're easy to believe) And then we wonder, when we've sinned, why we were born to grieve.

Don't think I'm preaching to you now; I'm noticing a fact. What mars the beauty of the world is how we mortals act. God made this earth a garden spot, but since the race began, I'm forced to say it isn't had the best of care from man.

SLEUTH SHIES AT TRIP TO SOUTH

"When a cop has to go and get a felon, and spend his jack around among the dicks who eat him in the street, he's a little bit of a policeman in a pretty fix."

Being the sentiments of "Bill" Smith, detective.

Police Inspector Alexis Sheffoff is on his way to Los Angeles today, with a warrant for Manuel Garcia, arrested on a charge of stealing the "Lin Lizze" of Myron Harris, assistant district attorney. In his heart is no joy at the thought of visiting sunny and climatic pure Los Angeles—there is only black, bitter rage in his heart toward one "Bill" Smith, in charge of the police auto department.

"Bill" was supposed to have gone—auto thieves are his prisoners. But Smith said he was awfully busy—he explained to Captain of Detectives James Drew that he had two big local cases on—that he had so much work that his last trip abroad for a prisoner hung up the whole concern—and finished by suggesting that Sheffoff had never been to Los Angeles.

Sheffoff got the detail. "Every time you go to Los Angeles for a prisoner it costs you about $20," said Smith. "I can't afford it. You are allowed a dollar for your meal on the train and your fare is paid. You can't even tip a dining car waiter decently with a dollar."

"Then the Los Angeles policemen take you out among the cafeterias to entertain you and you've gotta buy back, so I figured to let Sheff spend his jack this time instead of me. It has cost me too much already this year—going to Los Angeles for prisoners."

That's why Sheffoff kissed a little roll of greenbacks goodbye as he boarded the train today—and in his heart is black rage toward Bill Smith.

Thousands of Juvenile Friends of This Paper Crowd T. & D. Theater to See Great Bill

Children! children! over 3,000 of them crowded the T. & D. theater this morning to enjoy the first big free show staged by the Fifty Thousand Club under the auspices of The Oakland TRIBUNE and the Oakland T. & D. Membership in this new club is open to all boys and girls in Alameda county and a regular series of events of interest to youngsters is planned, including big free picnics, theater parties, and other interesting good times for girls and boys.

These events are to be carefully supervised by the management of The Oakland TRIBUNE. All boys and girls who wish to enjoy these good times can become members of the Fifty Thousand Club by seeing Mr. Swabey at THE TRIBUNE office.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM. Today's program was staged with all the success that the ample facilities of the T. & D. theater afford. Manager Edwards of the theater welcomed the boys to the theater and introduced the publisher of The TRIBUNE, who told of the interest taken in the boys and girls of Alameda county by The TRIBUNE. The numbers on the program were received with great applause. Miss Beth Jane Teeple, a little miss not yet four years old, recited and won her way into the heart of the audience. Latest dances were presented by the clever Misses Doris and Eileen Bond. A piano solo by Master Irving Krick showed marked ability on the part of the performer. Beverly Swabey gave a five-minute

LABOR LAWS FOR U. S. ARE URGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Early action on legislation to adjust war contract controversies is urged by the Department of Labor in a statement showing that the labor surplus in many industrial centers had increased rapidly in the last ten days.

Plants heretofore engaged in war work were said not to be changing back to civilian production rapidly enough to hold their proper portion of labor. The canceling of war contracts with no provision for an early financial adjustment of the manufacturers' investment in war machinery, materials and partially completed products was blamed for plunging some concerns into a state bordering on stagnation with no certainty as to their working capital.

"The Department of Labor's investigation of ways and means to stimulate building and improvements and augment the absorption of labor in industry disclosed these two important ways of getting results. The statement says:

"One—Legislation enabling the building of new plants and the repair of old ones to use their real estate for collateral in a system of Federal home loan banks.

"Two—Legislation to authorize immediate adjustment and payment by the Government of reasonable claims growing out of the summary rescheduling of war contracts.

"The former would permit home builders to avail themselves of almost $2,000,000,000 in loans; the latter would for manufacturing industry.

The statement added that a proposed law on the first recommendation soon would be introduced in Congress. Legislation on the latter now is pending. Jesse H. Evans of the employment service of the Labor Department told the committee that unemployment through the war had increased to 2,500,000. Reports received by the department early in December from 123 industrial centers showed 10,000 men out of work in each center, and this number had increased to 22,500, while reports received today from only 85 per cent of these centers showed 20,000 men without work.

Prospect of industrial unemployment in the country was discussed briefly today in the Senate. Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Smoot of Utah, Republicans, were joined by Senator Thomas of Colorado in expressing apprehension, while Senator Lewis of Illinois, Democrat, deprecated their statements and those of Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor and others regarding probable depression.

Senator Kenyon advocating his bill to expand $100,000,000 on public works to prevent unemployment, denied that any "alarming" statements had been made and insisted that measures by Congress to avert unemployment were necessary.

"President Wilson certainly made a great hit with all the French people," so writes Lieutenant Mearns Edwards, son of Commissioner W. L. Edwards, in a letter received today telling of the celebration in Paris when President Wilson was welcomed.

Edwards described the celebration in detail, and told of restoration work being started in French villages. "Nancy still shows the marks of air raids," he writes, "but in many places these are being erased by builders. France is still in an awful condition, however, but there is a new spirit of optimism among the people. Edwards expects to be ordered home soon."

Revision of the collection schedule, especially as applied to the despatch of mail, has been begun by Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough. In furtherance of this plan the postmaster is having cards printed for distribution among the merchants and other business men giving the time of the arrival and departure of all principal mail trains and when collections of mail are made. Rosborough says that he hopes in this way to overcome the present tendency of business men to let their mail stack up through the day.

"By watching the cards that I am preparing," said the postmaster, "the business man can see at a glance what trains for certain points leave and can dictate his letters accordingly." He said further that in this way the business man would get a much more satisfactory mail service, as the post-office force would not be swamped with great batches of mail reaching the office at the same time.

Rosborough says that at least 45 minutes from the time of collection are indicated on mail boxes and chutes should be allowed for collection and transfer to the main postoffice from the district bounded by Seventh, Seventeenth, Clay and Webster streets, and that at least 45 minutes more should be allowed for distribution and despatch after the mail reaches the office.

"My object is to make the system as nearly perfect as possible," said the postmaster. A present list of the twelve dispatches of mail from the local postoffice to San Francisco each day and thirteen arrivals of mail from that city.

RECOGNITION TO AID POLISH CAUSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Recognition of the Paderewski government in Poland by President Wilson, through the letter of Secretary of State Lansing, will result in an overwhelming vote to support the Paderewski government in the elections now under way, according to Polish officials now in Washington.

It establishes the solidarity of the coalition ministry and aids in the pacification and strengthening of the country," was the view expressed. John F. Smulski of Chicago, commissioner for the Polish people in America, was especially gratified over the recognition.

"I cannot escape the feeling," he said, "that the president was seeking also to express his appreciation of the loyal support which the Poles in America have given the cause of the United States. They have never wavered from the beginning. History, too, will reveal the service which the Poles in Poland rendered the cause of the allies. The plans of the German high command were based on the supposition that the Poles would revolt from Russia so that a relatively small force of Germans would be needed to hold the eastern front, leaving a great body of troops for the western front and the 'march to Paris.' Instead a million and a half Poles joined Russia and the allied powers had time to rally and save Paris."

FOREIGN POLITICS.

The league of nations, which has been a fact ever since, shortly after America entered the war,
the Interallied Supreme War Council was created and Marshal Foch was made the generalissimo of the Allied forces in the field, has been approved by the peace conference in Paris. It now remains as previously observed, to be discovered what quality and substance will be given the league of nations in the peace settlement.

The latest reports from Paris state that the idea of General Smuts, the South African, will be generally accepted. This contradicts the prevailing impression that President Wilson's program would be kept to the front. It is likely that the representative from South Africa, who is a democrat of the highest standing, has been permitted to assume prominence for the sake of effect. But if General Smuts has formulated an acceptable league of nations plan it ought to be so presented as to bestow upon the Boer war hero unqualified and unstinted credit. General Smuts has probably talked less about a league of nations than any other statesman and diplomat and from him
we may with greater confidence expect a concrete definition of the idea.

President Wilson's general thought on this subject, however, will probably be embodied in the plan insofar as that is practicable. Although exceedingly chary of giving details, the President has indicated what he thinks ought to constitute the dominant idea of a league of nations. In his speech to a party of visiting Mexican editors in Washington in June, 1918, the President said:

"The whole family of nations will have to guarantee to each nation that no nation shall violate its political independence or its territorial integrity. That is the basis—the only conceivable basis—for the future peace of the world, and I must admit I was most anxious to have the states of the two continents of America show the way to the rest of the world as to how to make a basis for peace."

This principle was included in the proposal of 1915 for a Pan American Congress and has been widely discussed in South and Central America.
It imposes specific obligations upon every nation,
a member of the league. Its first proposition is to preserve the territorial integrity of each nation holding membership in the league. Under such obligation an act such as the invasion of Belgium
by Germany in 1914 could not be tolerated—an act
by the way with which the United States refused to concern itself.

With this principle as its foundation the league of nations would be pledged to go very far in regulating international conduct. While it is to be hoped that the new world conscience would prove adequate for most of the problems, the probability that armed force may be necessary in some instances cannot be ignored.

In view of the above considerations and the record of President Wilson's opinions, it is grossly misleading to say that the United States will have no foreign policy after peace is proclaimed, that this country is not interested in European politics or in the affairs of Asia. This country will be actively concerned in every turn of foreign policies that assumes international proportions.

THE SAME GERMANY.

Germany has shifted her tactics in intrigue
since the election of a week ago which insured
unquestionable popular support for the present provisional government and the carrying out of the plan for a constitutional assembly. She now speaks proudly, and with a touch of old-time arrogance, of the "Young German Republic." While making ludicrous attempts to gain the sympathy of America and for a relaxation of the embargo,
her leaders assert that this young German republic will reject excessive demands of the Allies, will not countenance economic restrictions and will see to it that a "just" arrangement is made for the importation of raw materials and staples.

It has been only a few weeks since Germany threatened the Allies with Bolshevism if the Allies pressed their advantage too far. That was immediately after the military collapse. Marshal

Foch promptly met the threat by emphatic assurances that he would use force if necessary to maintain order in Germany and exact the full measure of reparation. Then Bolshevism waned. Now the threat is the strength of a young German republic.
But the German propaganda machine grinds
on, whatever the other activities of the government may be. Efforts are made to stir up dissension among the Allies, to lure Americans to sympathy by a demand for raw cotton, induce a lifting of the economic embargoes and the maritime blockade. The same rotten heart of Germany at war is beating in Germany pleading for peace.
Criminal plotters are at the helm, and Bernstorff,
as base as the basest culprit, is to be a commissioner to the peace conference. "Watch and punish" must continue to be the watchword of the Allies.

CARELESS PROMISING.

An official of the federal government has given an answer to the complaint of California growers that they cannot sell their beans. At least it is likely that this official is of the opinion that his public statement should be dignified by the title of "answer." He says the government will buy California beans to the extent of sixty-five percent of its requirements for the Army, Navy and Marine Corps; that there is no cause for worry
on the part of the farmer.

But this "answer" shies at the real problem of the bean growers. And considering the record of unfulfilled promises made by the government to the bean and barley producers of California, it will not give much encouragement until the beans
are taken off the growers' hands and paid for.
The facts remain that the growers have great quantities of beans on hand, that they have been able to dispose of but a very small portion of the 1918 crop and that there is practically no call for beans today. They find difficulty in getting a quotation at all.

What the farmer wants is a purchaser for his beans and barley, crops which the government urged him to plant in maximum quantity; he does not care much for the promises and assurances of federal agents who bother about nothing so much as how they will manage to maintain the importance of their position.

There is an authentic story, a chip from the cold, hard record, which every farmer in Central California has heard. During mid-summer of 1917, a prominent farmer in the Delta district,
and an official in a farmer's organization, wrote to the federal food administration enquiring what was the plan of the government regarding the California bean crop with particular reference to the question as to whether the growers would be permitted to close contracts for the sale of their product to private and foreign purchasers. After a lapse of ten weeks a reply was received. It had been written by a bureau clerk and had Mr. Herbert Hoover's signature attached. It stated in effect, and this only, that the government would not buy pink beans as they would destroy the morale of the army and navy.

This letter is understood to be in safe-keeping and after the formal declaration of peace it is planned to put it on exhibition as one of the grim memories of a heart-breaking struggle with governmental stupidity. There will be many companion pieces. Undoubtedly one will be the assurances of a government agent that everything is lovely in the bean market and the government will buy two-thirds of the California crop, when as a matter of fact the growers can't sell their beans at any price. Another monstrosity will be the ruling that farmers who cannot get rid of their beans and barley will not be permitted to violate the law against warehousing of food products.

Nine States have inaugurated fights against the Burleson telephone rates. This assures a thorough court test of the authority of the federal bureau
chief to impose any charge on the public he thinks fit and in opposition to the laws and authority of the several States. One of the restraining orders against the rate increase has been heard before a federal judge in Florida. The judgment was a denial of the plea of the State authorities.
It will not surprise many persons to observe the courts upholding the power of the federal bureau official to do this extraordinary thing of taxing the users of public utilities in war time; it will provide a certain consolation and a feeling of safety that such power accrues to the government when the nation is fighting for its safety. But the feeling that the procedure of Mr. Burleson was unnecessary, unjustified by conditions, and wantonly provocative of distress of the public mind, will not be lessened.

A BAD TELEPHONE BEGINNING.

It is not the conflict between State authority and Federal authority which will impair the country's wire service. With the telegraph and telephone systems in the hands of the post office department, there can be little doubt that in a test the national power would override local claims to jurisdiction and regulation.
What is going to injure the wire service is the same thing which has made such a poor postal service and which is demoralizing the rail service. This is the incapacity of governments, national, State or municipal, to conduct business on business lines; the inability of getting political managers to look upon a public department as a business institution to be administered only in the interest of the business that business; the hopelessness of getting men in public jobs to do a day's work for a day's pay, as men in nearly all other jobs do.

If before the war the American people were in favor of government operation of the railroads as a growing theory, their experience with it as a cold fact,
if we know anything about public opinion, has turned them strongly against government operation. If the telephone service makes as bad a contribution as it has made a start with the new toll, new difficulties
and new costs, government operation of the wire business will have even less popular favor.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

The surprising statement is made that Hindenburg may yet get into Paris by April 1. It is possible that the peace parliament will have pursued its labors to a point where his presence and that of others held to be responsible for heinous acts
during the war, will be necessary and indeed compulsory.

Whatever outcome the discussion
may have as to the return of the railroads, former Secretary McAdoo is able to take account of the snarl with equanimity. He got them into it, but it is no part of his worry to get them out.

The Fleet Corporation has certainly succeeded in keeping the American people guessing, and it might be added, in hot water. It has given a good illustration of what the official body which knows what it wants to do is not like.

Secretary Baker is having a run-in with Senator Overman. It is over Stephenson, the man who reported David Starr Jordan and a lot of other prominent Americans as holding pacifist views. The secretary published that Stephenson was never acting under federal direction. The Senator pulls the record and seems to have the best of it. There is quite a tendency in the national administration to sledge.

The incidents of the "flu" controversy disclose human nature. For instance, a San Francisco official has caused it to be stated that it was the subsidence of the epidemic
which resulted in masks being dis-pensated with and not the protesting mass meetings. The story of scissors and shears over again.

The decision to sow the Auditorium grounds to grass is a high artistic conception. Grass is a great and legitimate camouflage and there is no doubt that the aspects about this great building need to be softened.

All of the American ingenuity that has been brought to bear has not yet proved equal to stamping out the long business. There certainly ought to be some way to confine this Oriental savagery to its own country.

The war has done another thing
that was not done in times of peace.
It has started agitation that is likely to result in legislation to embargo immigration for four years. This will give the country a chance to masticate, if it does not thoroughly digest, the mess that is already in its maw.

It seems reasonable that Germany should get back the colonies in the Pacific. The world is justified in taking any step to guard against a recurrence of the world experience that is just over; but the bestowal of these dependencies may be a problem, there being several beneficiaries between whom there seems little choice.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

A "divorce proctor" is Seattle's latest innovation on its established order. It is explained that the duties of a "divorce proctor" are to investigate separation cases and report his findings to the court in which they are to be adjudicated. This enables the court to arrive at a decision with more facility than by the old and tedious process of a regular trial.—San Diego Union.

No public or private school in the United States should be permitted to teach a foreign language. No loyal American can consistently vote against a legislative act placing this limitation upon the teaching of foreign languages.—Santa Rosa Republican.

By no means shy on holidays, California is to have one more. If legislators at Sacramento succeed in putting it on the statute book, and it is to be called "Health Day." The official emphasis that you will therefore permanently place, upon our greatest asset, say advocates of the measure, "will give a new appreciation of the value of human lives and the civic responsibility of each citizen to conserve his health." The argument in our opinion lacks force.
—Napa Register.

One of the mock fears being peddled among the wets is the claim that the state laws contemplated for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment will prohibit the possession as well as the sale of intoxicating liquors, and will authorize a police search of every home, cellar
and pantry to find whether there are any stores of drinks on hand. Of course, nothing of the sort is contemplated, and no such law, if passed, could be construed as an enforcement of the federal amendment, which does not prohibit either the possession or the consumption of intoxicating liquors.—Fresno Republican.

OUR COLLEGES AS INVESTORS.

As investors our colleges have an opportunity equally great, but apparently overlooked. The productive funds of our universities, colleges, and technological schools have increased from $43,000,000 in 1880
to $393,000,000 in 1916, and a large proportion of these funds is invested in the securities of corporations, particularly of public service corporations. Universities, therefore, depend on the one hand upon the prosperity of these corporations, while,
on the other hand, if they were to stand for fair play, they might have an important influence in preventing the growth of abuses which are sure to provoke government regulation in the future. It is particularly important that our universities shall not shrink from adopting the broad national point of view as investors,
in view of the common belief that their governing bodies are being more and more recruited from persons connected with great banking houses or great corporate interests.

FOUR GUESTS MISSING.

Airplanes in War and Peace

From a Speech by John D. Ryan, Director of the Bureau of Aircraft Production.

The greatest effort necessary to build aircraft, to start the building of aircraft, was in the building of the engines. When the war ended there wasn't a nation on our side of the water and I am sure there wasn't one on the other side who didn't take every engine we could build for them of the types we were building, there was not a single nation
in the war that did not want more of what we were making, than we could build for them.

And we did not do so badly. From the time we began, we built more engines, and we built more planes, month by month, from the time we began than any nation in the war built from the time it began. We had more engines ready, and we had more planes ready, month by month,
from the time we commenced, than any nation in the war had month
by month from the time it commenced.

The American manufacturers of aircraft, the American engineers,
their ingenuity, their brains,
their patriotic devotion, the tremendous work they put into it, were building so well and even so fast that the day the armistice was declared,
there were six hundred and eighty-six American planes at the port of embarkation that could not be loaded.
That was not the fault of the shipbuilders. The reason for it was that while we were building a good many planes, a great many other people were building other things that General Pershing and the people on the other side wanted very badly, and they were taking trucks and ordnance and other things that they needed very badly, and leaving aeroplanes for the last few days, but the fact remains and we have it to our credit that we have more planes ready for them than they were ready to take. It was a great adventure, and we are all proud of it. I hope that what has been accomplished in aircraft, in war times, will be duplicated to a great extent in peace times. I believe any day that there is a great peace future for aircraft. I haven't any doubt that the men whose brains, whose money
have been put into aircraft will go on developing it, perfecting it, making it as necessary to the life of the world, that the peace requirements
in time will exceed the post-war requirements.

I think the peace requirements—
and I don't believe I am over-optimistic—in will in time startle the world.
I don't think it is coming today, and I should regret very much if it were pushed too much. I think with care and caution and development, and trial, that the aeroplane can be made as necessary in peace, almost as it is in war, and I believe it is in good hands. I believe the manufacturers of this country, who are in the aircraft business today, will see it to their own interests to proceed cautiously, carefully and make as few false starts as possible, develop it on a broad basis and bring it to the fruition it deserves.

I think the science of aviation should be encouraged in every possible way. I would have an academy of aviation, just as we have a military academy at West Point and a Naval Academy at Annapolis. I would educate the boys of this country
from the time they are boys in aviation, strictly and almost exclusively,
and I think that with the proper expenditure and the proper direction of money, we could have from now on a navy fleet that attempted to reach the shores of the United States would be detected and located so far out at sea that it would be put out of business 300 or 400 miles beyond the reach of the shore.
We now have planes that have a long range, we will have planes with a longer range, not necessarily the fastest planes, but planes with a long range that could absolutely detect the presence of a hostile fleet on its way to these shores at least 600 or 600 miles before they could reach us. Not deprecating in any way the great mental defenses that we want in this country, and that we must have,

I would say the planes could locate the fleet and the navy could destroy it, it could be told where it was and destroyed before it could reach us.
I think that the great manufacturing organizations should not be destroyed or allowed to fall into disuse. I don't advocate the building of great numbers of aircraft for military purposes. I don't think it is necessary. But I think that sufficient encouragement and employment can be given to the well-developed aircraft factories of this country to keep them in the aircraft
business, to induce them to make every discovery, to do everything they can to promote the science of aircraft. The organization should be kept intact, the men who are able to do this thing should be kept together as far as possible.
It would be a small expense, and God knows it might be a great measure of economy some day.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

A Good Memory of Current Events One Test of Youth

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Many philosophers deny that nearly all living things, protoplasm, animals, molds, lichens, microbes, bacteria, mice and men have some sort of memory. Most scientists, however, especially biologists, bacteriologists, zoologists, physiologists and experimental psychologists are convinced from a deluge of facts that wherever there is life there is possible memory.

To be sure, memory is more of a compound than the simple word implies. Memory is composed of the impressions made upon your senses,
your muscular movements and the other structures that are healthy and alive. Indeed, health is not necessary. It is true that an accuate formation of remembered events, objects and situations depends upon healthy fabric. Nevertheless, an accurate, false, exaggerated or pathological memory is very common among those who are not 100 per cent healthy.

Impressiveness, retention, recollection and recall are the analyzed components of memory. A very good memory depends, therefore, in general upon complete health, powers of attention and retention, recollection and recall.

Tricks of memory are well known infinite and various. When you experience the feeling in a strange city or upon a new scene that you must have been there before, "possibly in another existence," as superstitious people like to believe, it simply means that some book you've read, some picture seen, some experience long past had a few of the faces, houses, bridges or streets
a little bit similar to the one you are in.

Professor H. C. Warren of Princeton University a few weeks ago described two examples of long latent memory. You may perhaps know that persons who begin to grow old or state—often in their twenties and thirties—feel that "things are not like they used to be."

When a very deep snow, a cold day or a hot spell occurs they are up and at it, telling "how cold it was in the eighties," or all about
"the terrible blizzard of 1902."
"Them was the days," the senile fossils proudly boast.

One man at the age of 30 years
and 5 months, discussed the tricks of his own memory. He was convinced as an unusually educated man that he was as old as his years
because he had difficulty in recalling of proper names and of circumstances, while at the same time he constantly recalled many trivial
events of his boyhood.

Awake the night before, he suddenly recalled a poem which he had recited at the meeting of a boys' club in 1812 which he had recited in 1912 for stenographic report a few days later. For seventy-five years devoted to business pursuits
he did not know or remember this poem, the club or the circumstances
until the night mentioned.

The second subject was 83 years old. He was given a phonograph record of the college poem which he graduated, and was so surprised and pleased that he said: "I wonder if it is because they remember that freshman oration of mine." He immediately recited "The Athenians,"
which had lain dormant in his mind
for a period of sixty-nine years.

In both instances there is every reason to believe that the poem and the oration had not been thought of or remembered at all during the lapse of intervening years. This is a proof of old age, and when it occurs in the young they ought to look to themselves, their intellects and their studies.

BURLESON'S RATES MEET NEW PROTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—The Postal Telegraph Company will put into effect, under protest, the new Burleson "air line" toll and long distance rates, Jan. 31. The company has refused to grant, as the state railroad commission requested, a restraining order against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and Postmaster Burleson. The Owens Lake telephone company notified the commission that it had instituted no rates other than the commission had fixed.

Beyond these developments, the efforts of the commission to prevent the new Burleson rates going into effect today, have been slow. The feature of chief general interest was the decision of the Postal, which maintained the rate of long distance telephone wires in connection with its telephone service, to add the new rates, but under protest.

Word of the Postal's decision first reached Union N. Rether, chairman of the operating board of the United States Telephone and Telegraph Administration, in a letter written him by Clarence W. Mackay, president of the company.

MACKAY'S VIEWPOINT

Mackay held emphatically to these points: That there is no need for the change in the present long distance rates; that the new rates would be contrary to sound public policy; that the public's wishes are directly in opposition to them; that they are questionable on a legal basis.

The letter of President Mackay follows in part:

"During my absence from town the last few days this whole telephone increase has reached such a situation that one does not seem to know how to act. I would, however, say this, that the Postal company is prepared to put these new rates into effect under protest, and that we would first inquire as to what the Postal Telegraph is expected to do in regard to these new telephone rates in states where the public service commissions object to them, or where the laws of the state prohibit any change, except on approval of the public service commissions of the state.

"So many of them have already objected and some have applied for injunctions, and others threaten to do so, that it is impossible for us to know just where to put these new rates into effect and where not. For instance, the public service commission of Michigan threatens the imposition of penalties if the order of Burleson is obeyed by the telephone companies in that state. We do not think we can be reasonably called upon to make changes in states where we will be liable to prosecution and penalties if it should turn out that the changes were made in violation of the laws of that particular state.

PUBLIC OPPOSITION

"We see no occasion for changing long distance telephone rates and whatever we do will be done under protest because we have grave doubts as to the legality of such an increase in telephone

Women Don Political War Paint Protest $75,000 Festivity Fund Want Woman Supervisor Named

Forwarding telegrams to Governor William D. Stephens, making request that in the appointment of a new supervisor he consider the naming of a representative woman protesting against the proposed expenditure of $75,000 in Oakland for festivities and a temporary memorial fund upon the return of local men from military and naval duty, and going on record as actively in favor of a fair representation of women in direct affairs in the city commission and board of education, the Oakland Women's Political Club was born yesterday.

Fifty women leaders from all parts of the city met in conference formally to organize and inaugurate for active participation in local public affairs.

A committee will be designated to present the point of view of the women leaders to the city commissioners and the body sponsoring the raising of a fund of $75,000 "for display."

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS.
The resolution which was adopted by the new club read:

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the postmaster general now, whatever might have been his justification, while the war was actively going on, and while it undoubtedly would be of great advantage to the Bell company (The American Telephone and Telegraph Company), of which the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is a subsidiary—Editorial: to raise long distance telephone rates, particularly in the south and on the Pacific Coast, where service at lower rate, allow me to say that I do not think the public will approve of it and that I believe it is against public policy.

"Clarence H. Mackay, president, of the railroad commission on the contention that it is the only power in this state that has authority to fix rates for public utilities, is expected to be heard before Judge Dooling within a few days. It is understood by Douglas Brookman, counsel for the commission, that Judge Dooling will dismiss the petition.

Federal Judge Dooling denied today that he had set aside the application of the commission for a temporary injunction on the ground that a similar denial had been made by Federal Judge Anderson of Indiana, a similar action pending there.

"My refusal to issue a temporary injunction," Judge Dooling said, "was based upon the request for such an injunction without the defendants, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, having been previously advised of such action by the railroad commission and which deprives them of an opportunity to reply.

The commission today filed notice of its intention to seek an injunction returnable before Federal Judge William C. Van Fleet within twenty days. This if granted, will effectively tie up and prevent the telephone company from changing the new toll and long distance rates made effective by Postmaster General Burleson.

edge that many of the returning men are dependent upon families for support and assistance in reinstating themselves in civil life, industry and business, and a considerable number are without means of livelihood at the present time.

"Therefore, the club urges that all money solicited from the public for welcoming and entertaining these boys be devoted first and primarily to their financial assistance under proper safeguards in all cases of need and to secure employment which will provide safety and comfort to those who have risked their lives."

Admitting that "a lack of cooperation among the women in the different sections of Oakland has defeated their candidate in the past," the club will make an effort to eliminate sectional feelings, and to put in the field at the spring election at least one woman candidate for city commissioner.

"A man who drove a machine while intoxicated and whose case is set for trial would never remain in the employ of the board of education, if there were more women there," declared one speaker. "There was declared machine belonging to the department which was damaged by being used out of hours, and I'm going to find out when and where."

"One woman among seven members on the board of education is not enough," declared the conference.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

A partial board of directors was elected, leaving the presidency and committee chairmen to be named at the second meeting on Thursday.

Twenty-five vice-presidents representing various sections of Oakland have been chosen as follows:

Mrs. H. J. Platts, Miss Bessie J. Wood, Mrs. Pauline Bird, Mrs. Annie T. Ryan, Mrs. W. H. Kelley, Miss Ida Diserens, Mrs. A. H. Gregory, Mrs. Carrie Ferrell, Mrs. Jennie Yates, Mrs. Fred G. Harrison, Mrs. Harriet Hawes, Mrs. A. F. Borg, Mrs. E. C. Rathbone, Mrs. Niles G. Place, Mrs. E. E. Rogers, Mrs. J. A. Clunie, Mrs. Ollie Smedgar, Mrs. Kilgore, Mrs. Ira Allen.

Mrs. Alice T. Burnell was elected secretary, Mrs. L. C. Grasser treasurer, Mrs. Lucy Barker and Mrs. A. T. Kalas auditors.

Lloyd B. Barzee, former head of the commercial department of the Technical High school, has been appointed secretary to Superintendent Fred Hunter, to take the place left vacant by the death of Dr. Arthur B. Barzee is director of school Americanization classes, which work he will continue. He has arranged for three naturalization classes in the schools this year.

GERALDINE FARRAR gives brilliant performance in a play of great dramatic intensity at the American.

GERALDINE FARRAR

Geraldine Farrar, famous diva, screen star and international celebrity, is now appearing at the American in "Shadows," the feature production of one of the most delightful dramatic programs ever presented in that theater.

"Shadows" is a fascinating story of a woman who found happiness out of misery and who fought for that happiness when disaster seemed about to overtake her.

The play moves swiftly, with ever increasing interest, and abounds in exciting moments and thrilling episodes. Many scenes of the drama are laid in a frontier town in Alaska and are decidedly picturesque.

The second feature of the bill is Bert Lytell in "The Spender," a rattling good comedy drama which recounts the amusing experiences of a young man who took upon himself the difficult task of teaching his miserly millionaire uncle how to get some real enjoyment out of life.

Pathe News Weekly and Rosebrook's American theater orchestra are additional features. The performances Saturday evening will conclude the Farrar-Lytell engagement.—Advertisement.

BONDS ASKED FOR OAKLAND NEW SCHOOLS

Plans for the immediate erection of fourteen new schools, to be constructed on conservative lines, in the "slow burning" class, safe but cheaper than "class A" structures, and for the launching of a $4,600,000 bond issue to be voted on at the April primary election, were completed today.

This followed a meeting last night of the Board of Education and the Bond Advisory Committee, when every detail of the needs of the school department were gone into. The building program was adopted unanimously.

The program's salient features are as follows:

Three new high schools, one in East Oakland, one in West Oakland, the third to be the remodeled University High school, which will be enlarged and re-equipped. The nineteenth avenue site will be used for one of the new schools.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS.
Five junior high schools, equally distributed in East and West Oakland, which will provide facilities for every seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupil in the city.

The first unit of an additional junior high school is to be built, and two old schools are to be remodeled.

The new high school in East Oakland will be known as the Oakland High School. The old Oakland High School at Twelfth and Grove streets will be known as the Commercial and Industrial High School.

Shop facilities are to be offered in practically all the new schools. Five neighborhood schools are to be established. Provision is to be made for six new elementary schools, and for community work in waterfront districts.

CAMPAIGN TO START.
The campaign for the bond issue will be launched at once, it was decided at the meeting. Speed is the principal hope. The committee and school board hope to have the bonds passed in April, that construction work may begin at once. Every month's delay sees a larger population and a larger school system in the public schools, the committee reported.

Details of the campaign were being perfected today. Speakers' bureaus will be established, to lay the needs of the city's schools before all meetings; theaters will be enlisted in the work; meetings of students are to be called;

LAWSON TOLD LIFE PENALTY IS STAYED

Urban R. Lawson, sentenced to death by the late Judge Frank B. Ogden for the murder of T. H. Woods in the Eagle Hotel in Oakland in June, 1916, received word today at San Quentin that Governor Stephens has commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. Efforts in his behalf have been continuously made by his attorneys, Captain I. Day, prison warden, and others.

Lawson's conviction by a jury of the superior court a plea of insanity was made and a jury trial was ordered. The trial on the insanity issue continued for two weeks, at the end of which the jury found him sane. Dr. F. W. Hatch, superintendent of state hospitals, and Dr. F. P. Clark, superintendent of the Stockton Asylum for the Insane, have since pronounced him mentally unsound.

As the judgment of death was pronounced upon Lawson at the conclusion of his trial he attempted to commit suicide by slitting his throat with a safety razor.

"The shooting of Woods resulted from the friendship of Lawson and Woods' wife, Lawson had been a regular visitor at the Woods apartment. One day when he called Woods refused to admit him. A quarrel occurred in the hallway, during which Lawson drew his revolver and fired a number of shots. One of the bullets struck Mrs. Woods in the leg. Woods was instantly killed and Lawson was arrested as he walked down the stairs, the smoking pistol in his hand.

mothers' clubs are to be enlisted; four-minute men are to aid, and a general campaign will be under way within the week.

The new building program, the committee reports, will abolish the inefficient portables now necessary in every schoolyard to house the growing attendance.

The bulk of the program was arranged by the School Advisory Bond Committee, of which Sam Donahue was chairman and Dr. S. W. Lore secretary. The members of the committee are Mrs. E. B. De Rome, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, J. J. McElroy, S. G. Dunn, J. A. Knowles, Frederic Kahn, James Pedgrift, John Maurerhan, Roscoe Jones and J. W. McClymond. President Louis Aber of the Board of Education presided at the meeting and Dr. Lore read the report.

PERFECT WOMAN DESCRIBED BY ARTISTS PUG NOSE, CROWN PRINCE CHIN BARRED

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Here are the specifications for a perfect woman, as agreed upon by Howard Chandler Christy, Penrhyn Stanlaws and Harrison Fisher, famous illustrators, who will pick the prize beauty of New York at an artists' colony ball tomorrow night:

NOSE—A pug nose will ruin the chances of a woman with the body of a Venus, Christy declares. The nose may be Roman or Greek, or any other accepted style, but it must not be pug or hooked.

CHIN—Strength is required in the chin—not masculine strength, but feminine strength. Crown prince chin will not pass muster, the judges agree.

EYES—They must have the lustre of intelligence. Thick and lustrous—any shade; natural shade, that is.

HEAD—It must sit with dignity on the shoulders. The artists agreed that facial beauty alone would not make a winner. Every movement, graceful or otherwise, will be counted in the score, Stanlaws declared.

LIMBS (legs)—They must not be too long nor too short for the arms. The same goes for the torso. "A woman's limbs may be too long for her body, and her head either small or large. She won't do," said Christy.

"Her nose may be pug, her hair thick and lustrous, her chin weak, but her body perfect. She won't do."

"We will look for a woman who may be tall or short, but whose limbs fit the length of her body, whose head sits with dignity, whose eyes have life and above all, whose face radiates intelligence."

Penrhyn Stanlaws said: "A woman may win the golden apple, even if her face is not so beautiful as some other. We will watch for a woman who combines grace and beauty in pose, carriage and movements when walking and dancing."

"There will be many beautiful women at the ball," said Harrison Fisher. "Of course, they may be of all sizes and shapes and the selection of a queen of beauty will be difficult. Facial beauty alone does not make a winner."

HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINET

accomplishes in the home what the adding machine and the typewriter do in the office—order, efficiency, labor saving, economy of time and strength.

For instance, the Hoosier has places for 400 articles within arms' reach, with those used oftenest nearest at hand. It embodies 40 labor-saving devices which have been worked out by household efficiency engineers.

See the Hoosier cabinets at the only store which sells them in Oakland. Remember, you can buy a Hoosier for as little as $5 down, $1 monthly.

GERALDINE FARRAR

Geraldine Farrar, famous diva, screen star and international celebrity, is now appearing at the American in "Shadows," the feature production of one of the most delightful dramatic programs ever presented in that theater.

"Shadows" is a fascinating story of a woman who found happiness out of misery and who fought for that happiness when disaster seemed about to overtake her.

The play moves swiftly, with ever increasing interest, and abounds in exciting moments and thrilling episodes. Many scenes of the drama are laid in a frontier town in Alaska and are decidedly picturesque.

The second feature of the bill is Bert Lytell in "The Spender," a rattling good comedy drama which recounts the amusing experiences of a young man who took upon himself the difficult task of teaching his miserly millionaire uncle how to get some real enjoyment out of life.

Pathe News Weekly and Rosebrook's American theater orchestra are additional features. The performances Saturday evening will conclude the Farrar-Lytell engagement.—Advertisement.

Defeat Melrose

The San Leandro Merchants defeated the Melrose Merchants, 6 to 4. Santa, broke into the limelight, getting three blows—two triples and one single; while those, formerly of the Best All Stars, got a home run.

The game was captured in pitching, allowing five scattered hits and whiffing ten. Butra of the Melrose Merchants took the victory from the hands of the other team.

STYADDS

Two wooden hulls, towed here from northern shipyards, are lying off the Barnes-Tibbetts shipbuilding plant on the estuary awaiting machinery. The are to be equipped with marine boiler engines, etc., and are to be copper-work will, however, be indefinitely delayed should the Carpenters, Joiners and Caulkers' Union go on strike next Saturday. As the machinists are not on strike record at this time work on installation of machinery can continue.

The possibility of a tie-up of local shipyards is, however, attended by partial inertia thereat. That is to say, now new work is being laid out, nor any additional repair work being taken on. Ships on the stocks are being worked on as usual. Yesterday morning a 12,000-ton cargo carrier was launched at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, but following the launchings of the

was not hid. This lack of action is a radical departure from the custom which has prevailed at the plant ever since it began building ships for the government.

The same lack of action was noticeable at the plant of the Moore Shipbuilding and Dock Company, where a 9400-ton freighter was launched this morning. Hitherto a new keel has immediately been laid after a launching.

Word from the shipyard at Bay Point where 10,000-ton steel vessels are being built for the government, is to the effect that the launching scheduled for February has been indefinitely postponed.
